Farm Policy of Johnson Hit by Opponent

By WALTER R. MEARS

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater today promised the farmer a sympathetic ear in the White House if he beats President Johnson in November.

The Arizona senator told more than 300 people at a $15-a-plate fund raising breakfast that Johnson's only concern for agriculture is with the farm vote.

Goldwater envisioned a re-alignment of U.S. political parties.

He put it this way: "This is the way that political parties have been formed. Nobody gets up on a soap box and says 'We're going to have a party, here it is.' Hundreds of people, thousands of people and now millions of people will make a move. Some republicans will join the Democratic Party. An overwhelming number of Democrats should join the Republican Party—a reorientation of the parties so that we can travel under our true colors."

Goldwater also said Republicans would move slowly and carefully to curtail the price support and farm subsidy programs. He mentioned a span of five to ten years.

"I have never advocated immediate withdrawal," he said. "It couldn't be done."

He said the farm program is "a creature of the Congress" that couldn't be jettisoned at the whim of a president.

"We couldn't do it if we wanted to and we don't want to," he said. "We merely want to see freedom exist across this nation and that includes farmers."

In front of the Wake County, N.C. Courthouse, Goldwater drew a crowd that packed a plaza and filled the street for nearly a block.

Police estimated the crowd at 8,000 to 10,000.

He said that Johnson wants Continued on Page Two

"HECTIC LADY", A SHETLAND PONY OWNED BY Dickie Hogue, was having a hectic time yesterday during a driving rain that dumped 4.50 inches of water in this area. ## Back When Ice Cream Was the Only Frozen Food and Colds Brought Chest Rubbing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — You've got a pretty fair memory if you can look back and remember when—

The only frozen food people ate was ice cream—and they often froze it themselves.

When you had a cold, mother rubbed your chest with a menthol ointment and covered it with a piece of warm flannel.

In winter, children spent half their time scratching themselves because they all wore long woolen underwear.

Wallace Berry was getting rich from pictures that usually ended with him wiping a tear from his eye and saying, "Aw, shucks!"

When you told a fellow a funny story, he'd snap his suspenders with his thumbs to show his appreciation.

Rich kids had stamp collections; poor kids made collections of cigar bands stripped from stubs they found in the street.

You first learned the evils of gambling by playing marbles for keeps.

All fat men were supposed to be naturally jolly—and not suffering from neuroses that caused them to eat compulsively.

It was a popular parlor sport to try to get messages from the spirit world via ouija boards.

When a housewife tied a cloth around her head, you knew she was in the throes of spring cleaning.

Men openly took sandwiches to the office in metal lunch boxes instead of hiding them in expensive leather attache cases.

Summer wasn't really summer until the whole family had its first watermelon of the season on the back porch.

Women were esteemed more for the quality of the pies they baked than the style of clothes they wore. A really good cook prided herself on the fact she never served her husband "store bread."

Grown men who played golf or tennis were regarded as somewhat sissy.

When a young man left home to make his fortune in the city, his father always warned him never to play pool with strangers.

If you tipped a waitress, she looked surprised.

Most big-league baseball players chewed tobacco.

If you wore a straw hat after Labor Day, the neighborhood kids would snatch it off and smash it.

Girls with long curls had a better chance of marrying young.

The biggest financial problem of most small boys was how to raise the money to take a secret course in ventriloquism by mail.

Everybody had heard of Karl Marx and Sigmund Freud, but they weren't sure which was which.

Thinks Business Supports Gambling

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) —

The president of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday that there is growing support among Arkansas businessmen for the amendment to legalize casino gambling in Garland County.

R. H. Wootton said efforts over the last 100 years to stop gambling in the resort city had met with little success.

He said the state would benefit from legalizing the casino operations because it would derive tax revenue it did not get while gambling was illegal.

He said the state got almost $2.5 million in taxes from Oaklawn Park's horse racing season last spring.

LBJ Assures Nuclear Trigger Is Safeguarded

By FRANK ORMIER

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) —

President Johnson, arguing for continued White House control of nuclear weapons, says the United States has taken "every step man can devise to ensure that neither a madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."

This was Johnson's principal message here Wednesday before heading South today to Portland, Ore., to plug for "a new conservatism" and to hail cooperative efforts between public and private power companies.

The President dealt in detail with the nuclear war question in a Seattle address at a hotel dinner sponsored by three area colleges and the Seattle chamber of commerce.

Although he never once alluded, even indirectly, to Republican rival Barry Goldwater, he apparently felt that on the nuclear topic he had something going for him, since it was his second speech in 10 days to feature the subject.

As he did in Detroit on Labor Day, Johnson said control over nuclear weapons "must be centralized in the hands of the highest and most responsible officer of government — the president of the United States."

Murderer Escapes Arkansas Prison

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Dossie Cox, 56,

who was serving a life term for murder, escaped from the state prison farm early today. Prison officials said.

Cox was sentenced to life in 1959 in Clark County.

He was a trustee and had worked as a dog handler on the farm.

Jefferson County officers said Cox last was seen at the 12:45 a.m. bed check this morning.

He was dressed in white prison clothes. It was not known whether he was armed.

Thurmond to Introduce Goldwater

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) —

Sen. Strom Thurmond, who Wednesday announced his switch from the Democratic to Republican party, will introduce Sen. Barry Goldwater today as the presidential candidate brings his campaign to South Carolina.

A giant picture of Goldwater was the backdrop Wednesday night as the junior senator from South Carolina appeared on a two-state television hookup to announce his party change.

"I will do everything in my power," Thurmond said, "to help Barry Goldwater return our nation to constitutional government through his election to the presidency."

Thurmond's announcement was timed to precede Goldwater's appearance at noon at the Greenville-Spartanburg airport.

It is Goldwater's first political visit to South Carolina since 1962 when he addressed the Republican State Convention.

During Thurmond's 15-minute television appearance, a title card flashed across the bottom of the screen which said "U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond."

When Thurmond said, "In the future I must work within the framework of the Goldwater Republican party," the words "Republican, S.C." appeared under his name.

"The Democratic party," Thurmond said, "has abandoned the people, repudiated the Constitution and is leading the evolution of our nation to a socialist dictatorship."

Thurmond, 61, told reporters his break with the Democrats would be permanent. He said he had asked Senate minority leader Everett Dirksen to be removed to the Republican side of the floor.

Thurmond's cross-over was the first in the Senate since Oregon's Wayne Morse switched from the Republican to the Democratic party in 1954.

Thurmond has long been expected to come out for Goldwater with whom he voted against the civil rights bill, the nuclear test-ban treaty and other measures.

Man Involved in Another Strangulation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jackie

Lee Wood, 22, of Springdale, preliminary hearing on a first degree murder charge today and was bound over to circuit court for trial in the strangulation slaying of a 17-year-old girl Wednesday.

Police Chief R. E. Brains said Wood's fingerprints checked out with those of a Jackie Lee Wood who was acquitted of a strangulation slaying in Fairhaven, Mass., last year.

Capt. A. M. Haynie, chief of detectives here, said Wood maintained he was innocent of strangling Pamela Ann King, 17, of Little Rock, whose body was found in a downtown Little Rock motel room Wednesday.

Haynie said Wood had not yet been questioned about the Massachusetts slaying.

"But that won't have any bearing on our case here, anyway," Brains said. "That can't even be brought up in court here."

A Jackie Lee Wood was acquitted March 21, 1963, of the 1962 strangulation slaying of Mrs. Ruth M. Fuller, 40, of Fairhaven waitress. A Superior Court jury in New Bedford, Mass., returned the verdict.

Little Rock police still refused to disclose details of the slaying in the motel. Wood was arrested in the motel a short time after the slaying.

Police said Wood was registered in the room where the body was found.

Wood told officers he joined the Navy in 1961 and was discharged in 1963. He had been assigned to Norfolk, Va.

The men were arrested recently in connection with a series of burglaries involving Brown's Station and Bramlett's store near Hope City limits on Highway 4, a house burglary at the Patmos and theft of two batteries from a tractor near Binogen.

Willie Bown and Weldon Baty both pleaded guilty to possession of stolen property and each were given three year suspended sentences.

Rules Accomodation Section of Rights Act Is Unconstitutional

New Heat on Districting Measure

By JOHN BECKLER

drive for a constitutional amendment to block reapportionment of state legislatures has added new heat to the smoldering controversy now tying up Congress.

The latest effort is aimed at rushing through an amendment that would wipe out the Supreme Court's recent ruling that both houses of a state legislature would clear it for a basis of population.

Another swift strike by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee, brings such an amendment before his committee today for expected quick approval that would clear it for a later House vote. It would be up to the House leaders to determine when the vote came.

Smith used the same bold tactics last month to override the House leadership and send to the floor a bill that would have taken jurisdiction over state reapportionment away from the federal courts.

That one passed the House but died in the Senate Tuesday. Now, Smith plans to make the more difficult attempt for a constitutional amendment, which requires a two-thirds vote.

Smith's weapon is a seldom-used House rule that permits a majority of the Rules Committee to take any bill away from a legislative committee and send it to the House.

His target is the House Judiciary Committee, which was holding hearings on nearly 150 reapportionment proposals until Smith's sudden raid last month snatched one away.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, who blasted the earlier move as an exercise in tyranny by the Rules Committee, announced he wouldn't bother to show up at today's hearing.

"Anything I would say would be as useless as trying to write on water," Celler said. "The majority of the Rules Committee have apparently made up their minds. The decision is already written."

Celler said Smith and his followers were acting in "sheer desperation," and predicted the amendment would be rejected.

Wallace said he hoped the action would "start a move and set a pattern that will be followed across the land."

The Alabama governor, appearing in the state which gave him 266,000 votes for president in the April primary, said it was "entirely possible for states to pass legislation that will keep the federal government from running our schools."

He said he would detail the plan in his message to the legislature. And he predicted that the special session would be concluded in a single day.

Wallace made his statements to a Milwaukee news conference before leaving for an appearance at Neenah, in the Fox River Valley where he drew heavy support during his primary campaign against Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds, running as a favorite son in place of President Johnson. Reynolds polled 522,000 votes and claimed all of the state's national convention delegates for Johnson.

Wallace will return to Milwaukee for a public address tonight.

No Specific Race, Governor Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.

Orval E. Faubus said today that hoodlums and demonstrators whatever their race — not just Negroes—would be run over if they tried lie-in demonstrations in Arkansas.

Elaborating on a remark he made at McGhee Tuesday, Faubus said:

"I specifically said I'm not referring to any race. I'm talking about hoodlums and demonstrators, whatever their race or wherever they're from."

"FBI reports up north show that certain agitators, including communists, are causing these riots and looting," Faubus said in an interview. "If it occurs down here it will be instigated by the same people."

Faubus was criticized for the remark by his Republican opponent and by a Negro leader.

Decision by U.S. Judges in Alabama Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal panel today ruled that the public-accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act is unconstitutional as applied to a Birmingham restaurant.

The judges, who expressed their concern over the spread of congressional powers, issued a temporary restraining order against acting U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, prohibiting him from enforcing the act.

The ruling, filed in U.S. District Court, was in connection with a suit brought by Ollie McClung Sr. and his son, co-owners of Ollie's Barbecue.

The McClungs challenged the constitutionality of the law and asked for the temporary injunction.

U.S. Dist. Judges Seybourn Lynne and H.H. Grooms of Birmingham and Circuit Judge Waller Gwin of Tuscaloosa, Ala., heard the case Sept. 1 and held it under advisement until today.

The case was the second key court test of the act. The ruling was directly counter to the judgment by a similar three-judge panel in Atlanta, which held that the section was constitutional and that an Atlanta restaurant and others simply situated came within the scope

Atlanta restaurant owner Lester Maddox has appealed that decision to the U.S. Supreme Court. He closed his business rather than integrate it.

Decisions of three-judge panels may be appealed directly to the high tribunal.

There was no immediate comment from Justice Department officials.

The ruling did not state if the panel considered the public accommodations section unconstitutional as applied to all restaurants. The wording in a key paragraph, the last one read:

"We conclude that Title 11 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as applied to the business operated by these plaintiffs, was beyond the competence of Congress to enact and that its enforcement against plaintiffs under the circumstances of this would be violative of the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, in part reading: 'No person shall be x x x deprived of x x x liberty, or property, without due process of law; x x x' accordingly, they are entitled to the relief for which they pray."

Tennessee will pay 60 per cent of the states' share. The states will pay 10 per cent of the total cost of the bridge, with the federal government supplying the rest.

The commission also authorized the relocation of about 10 miles of Arkansas 1 between DeWitt and St. Charles to iron out a sharp curve in the road. This will cost about $1.8 million. Construction of $25,000 worth

Faubus to Deal With Race Rioters

MCGEHEE, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus told the Desha County Democratic Committee here Tuesday how he'd deal with any racial demonstrators who blocked street traffic.

"The first time they lay down in the streets to block traffic of a legitimate business operation, they're going to get run over," Faubus said. "And if no one else will do it, I'll get in a truck and do it myself."

The audience applauded. Faubus visited with the committee as part of his campaign for a sixth straight two-year term. He is opposed by Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

to turn the Agriculture Department into a department of local affairs. He called that "another attempt to do away with local government."

He said the Democrats run an "arrogant, bureaucratic minded Department of agriculture."

Goldwater moved his campaign into the Carolinas Wednesday night and told a whooping, flag-waving crowd of about 25,000 in Montgomery, Ala., that the federal government should return a share of income taxes to the states.

The Arizona senator said unrestricted grants should go to local and state governments that need them.

He charged the current system of federal aid has made states and communities "subservient to a huge federal bureaucracy with its center in the White House."

He accused President Johnson of telling members of Congress: "You vote with me or your project doesn't get built."

Goldwater, stumping the South for the third day, said he was "very pleased, extremely encouraged" by the crowds that have turned out.

He found one waiting in Raleigh late Wednesday night. A crowd of several hundred people swarmed around his airplane when it pulled to a stop after the flight from Montgomery.

Goldwater used a yellow bull horn to tell them, "It's wonderful of you to be out this late in the evening."

All day long, Goldwater told Southerners that Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina had shown "political courage" by switching his allegiance to the GOP.

Goldwater goes to Greenville, S. C., today and expects that Thurmond will be on hand to introduce him.

"I guess he's the ranking Republican," the senator said. Urging other Democrats to take the same path, Goldwater said the South "can no longer find any conservative principles in what is called in Washington the Democratic party."

"The party of the South no longer exists in any capacity at the national level," he said.

"This is the year that you have to forget allegiance to a party name," he told some 30,000 people on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi River in Memphis, Tenn.

"Being a Republican is much better for you today," Goldwater renewed two other proposals. He said Republicans "will end the draft and I think we can do it sooner than most people believe," and he promised a five-year, 25 per cent income tax cut.

But he said the federal budget must be balanced first. "So I would insist, not ask, I would insist that Congress stop the wild spending that has been started under this administration."

Says Statements Are Misleading

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) said in federal court here Wednesday that Capital Funds, Inc., of Fort Smith made misleading statements to get proxy votes in Modern American Mortgage Corp. of Little Rock.

The SEC said Ernest A. Bartlett Jr. of Fort Smith, listed as president of Capital Funds, and Austin E. Gatlin of Mountainburg made false statements about the net worth, earnings and other matters of Modern American.

The statements came while Bartlett and Gatlin solicited proxies of Modern American shareholders in a proxy fight for control of the firm, the SEC said in a brief it filed.

It also said the two failed to file copies of all proxy statements with the SEC and to furnish each stockholder with a proxy statement, and that the proxy forms were incomplete, regarding the purpose of the proxy.

Goldwater has contended that some way must be found to turn over control of battlefield nuclear weapons to one multinational command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. NATO's present nuclear stockpile is under American authority.

Johnson chose to overshadow a hand-across-the-border meeting earlier with Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson with his H-bomb speech. Today, in a statement prepared for a breakfast audience in Portland, he returned to the more pastoral subjects of water power and conservation.

Before leaving Seattle, Johnson issued a statement containing the heart of his Portland speech.

In it the President said: 1. New cooperative efforts among private and public power groups in the Pacific Northwest are welcomed. He predicted these would lead into a system "which one day will stretch from the Yukon to the Rio Grande — from the Columbia to the Potomac — lighting the homes and running the factories of an entire nation."

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Patrons at a laundry and cleaning establishment here were surprised Wednesday when they were waited upon by two Internal Revenue Service agents.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — John Henry Sheppard, 39, a Negro of El Dorado, is scheduled to be tried here Sept. 29 on a charge of first degree murder.

Circuit Judge Dave McKay set the date Wednesday after refusing a motion for a change of venue.

Sheppard is charged in the death of Mrs. Frank Willett, a white woman who was slain at her home in the nearby Lisbon community July 1.

Johnny Evers of the 1914 Miracle Braves was the first player to make seven singles in a four-game series.

Lie-in Stand of Faubus Is Criticized

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus drew a double barrage of criticism Wednesday for saying that racial demonstrators would be run over if they attempted to lie-in in the streets of Arkansas.

Winthrop Rockefeller, the Republican candidate for Faubus' job, said, "I am so shocked I am speechless."

I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic (Negro) Voters Association, said, "Faubus is encouraging murder and violence on the part of whites by amking the suggestion."

"He is making it to be sure he has an issue in the campaign," McClinton said. "We think he is feeding the people back in the rural communities this prejudice and hate, hoping that it might not reach the press, which is worse than taking an open position."

"If you are going to have law and order, it ought to come from your elected officials, and certainly your top officials," he said.

Faubus' comment, made to the Desha County Democratic Committee at McGehee Tuesday, was:

"The first time they (lie-in demonstrators) lay down in the streets (in Arkansas) to block the traffic of a legitimate business operation, they're going to get run over. And if no one else will do it, I'll jump in a truck and do it myself."

The audience applauded.

Capitol Club Suit Filed by Negro

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Negro civil rights leader filed suit in federal court here Wednesday to desegregate the Capitol Club, a private cafeteria in the basement of the State Capitol building.

Ozell Sutton, associate director of the Arkansas Council on Human Relations, filed the suit, which said he had been denied service at the cafeteria.

Sutton is on leave from the council to direct a Negro voter registration drive.

The club was formed shortly after the new Civil Rights Act was passed in July. Sutton's suit is the first litigation in Arkansas under the act.

Mrs. S. E. Tyer, who operated the cafeteria under lease from the state before the club was formed, still operates by agreement with the club incorporators.

The suit said Sutton entered the cafeteria July 15, before it became a club, and was told by Mrs. Tyer that "Negroes were not going to be served until there had been a court interpretation of the new Civil Rights Act."

Mrs. Tyer and the club were named defendants.

The suit said the cafeteria has a "long-established" policy of refusing to give service to Negroes.

INDUSTRY MONTH PROCLAIMED—With Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce President Wayne A. Stone standing by, Governor Faubus signed a proclamation officially designating October as "Industry Recognition Month" in Arkansas. The State Chamber, in cooperation with local Chambers of Commerce, is sponsoring a statewide "Arkansas Industry Recognition Days" observance October 1-31. In this period, all cities have been urged to conduct community-wide celebrations honoring their manufacturing, processing and fabricating industries and the contribution these firms make to the economic growth of hometowns and the state as a whole.

man, Mrs. Frank Trimble.

The out-going President, Mrs. Branch, expressed her appreciation for the cooperation she had received during her year in office and presented her gavel to the new President. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Branch for her excellent leadership during the past year. Dr. Lawrence closed the meeting with prayer.

At the close of this meeting an invitation was extended to all incoming officers and chairmen to the home of Mrs. Fred Holder for a covered dish luncheon. Thirteen women responded and enjoyed a delicious lunch following which a most helpful session of Training and Planning for the coming year's work was conducted by Mrs. Duffie Booth.

After several hours of study and discussion, the women formed a circle, clasped hands, and joined in repeating the Mizpah Benediction.

Homemakers H-D Meet

The Hempstead County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Dolores McBride, demonstrated "How to Paint and Re-do Old Furniture" for the Homemakers Home Demonstration Club meeting Tuesday, September 15, in the home of Mrs. Ernest Ridgill. It proved to be both interesting and informative for all.

Both the president and the vice-president were absent, so the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William Stephenson, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Gordon Renshaw led the group in singing "Down By the Old Millstream." After the hostess had read Deut. 28 for the devotion, Mrs. Roscoe Bowden voiced the prayer.

In the series of Civil Defense Lessons the group is having, Mrs. Renshaw presented "Your Family Survival Plan." The roll call proved to be most helpful because it was answered with useful household hints. The HD Club Woman's Creed was used to dismiss the group.

Cake, coffee, and cold drinks were served to 9 members and 3 guests, Miss McBride, Mrs. C. H. Torbert, and Miss Regina Renshaw. The October meeting will be with Mrs. V. B. Beggs.

Junior Auxiliary Meets

Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary Leslie Huddleston Unit 12 met Monday, September 14 at 4 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank with Mary Ann Bader and Cecilia Delaney as hostesses.

The president, Poleda Glanton, had charge of the meeting which was opened with prayer by Mrs. Joe Jones, Junior Auxiliary chairman. Mary Ann Bader led the group in repeating the Pledge of Allegiance, and Mrs. Jones gave a brief outline of the origin of the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

"The four phases of the program and its purpose are Americanism, Rehabilitation, Child Welfare, and Community Service," said Mrs. Jones. Explaining how that was done she cited the Essay and Oratorical Contest which carries a $2,000 scholarship to the first place winner; Boys State and Girls State; the poppy program to benefit disabled veterans and their families; education and scholarship for the children of disabled veterans; Foreign Relations projects like the "Pennies for Pumps" which recently raised $15,000 for Ecuador to purify drinking water.

September is Music Month and Betty Schenck gave a most interesting talk on the origin of "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the song was repeated in its entirety.

Two new members who were welcomed were Martha Pruden and Martha Bader. Sharon Rogers was a visitor. The hostess served cold drinks and cookies to 18.

After scores were tallied, Mrs. R. L. Broach was high. During the refreshment hour the hostess served assorted snacks, coffee, and cold drinks.

Miller Raps Farm Policy and Freeman

By CHARLES DUMAS

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Rep William E. Miller conceded he is no expert on farm problems. But neither, he says, are the "confused and inept agricultural czars" in Washington.

The Republican vice presidential candidate singled out Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman by name Wednesday night as he whaled away at the farm policies of President Johnson's Democratic administration.

Miller told a cheering crowd of more than 2,000 at an outdoor rally on the Iowa State Fairgrounds that the administration had "not redeemed a single major pledge" made to farmers in the 1960 presidential campaign.

The speech was calculated to fan discontent in the farming area which most political strategists believe the GOP national ticket must carry if it is to win the November election.

Miller's campaign itinerary today called for another appearance in Iowa, after a brief sortie into the dairy state of Wisconsin. He then plans to move on into Ohio and Illinois.

The New York congressman's farm policy speech here clipped to a Scottish Rite meeting of Masons in Little Rock Wednesday night.

Judge and Mrs. Lyle Brown spent the weekend in Forrest City with Mr. and Mrs. James Lockhart and family. On Sunday they visited Phala Brown in Conway.

Miller told the Des Moines rally: "Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and I have two things in common. We are both lawyers, and neither of us is a farm expert."

"The nation's farm people," he said, "want, deserve and must have a better deal than the one imposed from Washington by the confused and inept agricultural czars of this administration."

"Farm people want both opportunity and freedom—not Freeman. They want to make their own basic management decisions on the farm. They don't want those decisions made in Washington."

No Wind, No Race for the American Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — No wind, no race and the America's Cup standings remain: Constellation 1, Sovereign 0.

Both the American defender, Constellation, and Britain's challenger, Sovereign, were frustrated by postponement. Constellation was kept from what many expected would have been her second triumph and Sovereign was balked at demonstrating that she was not as pokey as she appeared in her trouncing in the first race Tuesday.

Both may have their chance to prove themselves today in a south or southeastern wind of 10-15 knots, forecast from the weather bureau.

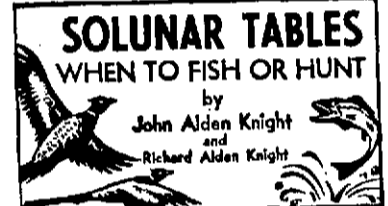

A lovely afternoon on Rhode Island Sound Wednesday offered everything anyone that a yachtsman would desire — sun, calm seas, almost bathing suit temperatures. But only the slightest of zephyrs played about the 24.3-mile course where Britain's Royal Thames Yacht Club hopes to do something no one has done since Millard Fillmore was president back in 1851, win the America's Cup from the U.S. defender.

Bus Mosbacher, skipper of the successful American defender Weatherly in 1962, later explained the committee called the race because what wind there was had backed about 50 degrees into the north-northwest seven minutes before the start and moving the navy tugs, used as marks, would have postponed the start past the 2:10 p.m. deadline for the commencement of a race.

Mays on Annual Rest, Giants Fading Fast

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

By the time Willie Mays completes his latest rest cure, the tottering San Francisco Giants may be beyond healing. A tired, slump-ridden Mays sat out his second straight game Wednesday while the light in Candlestick Park grew dimmer. New York's Tracy Stallard, losingest pitcher in the majors, blanked the Giants 4-0 on a five-hitter, pushing them within a few backward steps of extinction in what is left of the National League pennant race.

The fourth place Giants are 7½ games behind front-running Philadelphia, despite the Phillies' 6-5 loss to Houston Wednesday night, and it's beginning to look like even a hot-handed Mays won't be enough to close the gap.

And Mays is far from hot. His batting average has dipped below the .300 mark — to .29 — for the first time since the season's opening week.

The Giants who did swing against Stallard had little luck. The 27-year-old right-hander struck out 10, equalling the club record, and picked up his 10th victory and second shutout of the year. He has lost 18.

George Altman supplied the offensive punch with three hits, including a two-run homer and run-scoring double.

Dennis Menke's three-run homer gave Milwaukee a 3-2 decision over second place St. Louis, leaving the Cardinals six games off the pace. Cincinnati took the third spot, 7½ games behind and one percentage point up on the Giants, with a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh parlayed three second-inning home runs into a 7-5 victory over The Los Angeles Dodgers.

Minnesota defeated Baltimore 2-1; Chicago trimmed Detroit 4-1; New York beat Los Angeles 9-4; Boston routed Kansas City 10-1 and Cleveland swept a two-night doubleheader from Washington 3-1 and 3-2 in American League action that left the Orioles and White Sox in a first place tie and the Yankees one percentage point behind.

Stallard held the Giants hitless through the first three innings and allowed five singles thereafter. Altman, who doubled in one of two first inning runs and crashed his eighth homer with Joe Christopher aboard in the eighth, helped Stallard out of a jam in the bottom of the eighth with a running catch of Harvey Kuenn's liner.

Gaylord Perry, unbeaten in five previous decisions against the Mets, suffered his 10th season defeat. He has won 11. The victory was the Mets' 50th, one short of their single-season record.

Hope Star SPORTS

San Diego Evens Up the Playoff

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Coates pitched a six-hitter to beat Arkansas 2-1 here Wednesday night and pull San Diego even after two games of the Pacific Coast League pennant playoff.

Joel Gibson took the loss for Arkansas, teaming with Billy Smith to give the Padres only six hits, also.

Costen Shockley, the home run champion of the PCL, clouted a solo shot over the right field wall the ninth for Arkansas' only run.

Cesar Tovar homered — his first since July 12 — to give San Diego a 1-0 lead in the third inning.

In the fourth Tovar doubled to left, went to third on an error by Arkansas second baseman John Upham and scored on Art Shamsky's infield single.

Coates, formerly with the New York Yankees, fanned nine and walked nobody. Gibson struck out eight, walking four, and giving up five hits.

The Travelers threatened in the fifth when Lee Elia singled and Gibson doubled with two out. But Coates rebuffed Bill Sorrell on a fly to end the inning.

Ted Willis is due to pitch for the Padres tonight, seeking his fifth straight victory, with Ferguson Jenkins to start for Arkansas.

The series will move to Little Rock after tonight's game.

The Colts thwarted Jim Bunning's bid for victory No. 18, pushing across four runs in the fifth inning and holding off the Phillies' late rush.

Bunning, 17-5, worked with only two days rest. He held a 3-2 lead going into the fifth but was lifted after singles by Al Spangler, Rusty Staub and Walt Bond and walks to Bob Aspromonte and Jim Wynn. John Bateman's two-run single off reliever Bobby Locke completed the rally.

Ruben Amaro's bases-loaded single in the eighth drove in two runs but pinch runner Adolpho Phillips was thrown out trying to go from first to third on the hit, killing the Phillies' last bid.

Menke's 18th homer gave Braves starter Denny Lemaster a 3-0 cushion in the second inning and he nursed a two-hitter into the eighth before doubles by Curt Flood and Lou Brock, Menke's error and a sacrifice fly cut the lead to 3-2.

Bob Tiefenauer replaced Lemaster, 15-11, and stopped the Cardinals the rest of the way.

Cincinnati's Johnny Edwards drove in three runs with three successive singles and Jim Maloney picked up his 14th victory, checking the Cubs until the sixth when Ron Santo poked a two-run homer. The circuit boosted Santo's RBI total to 103, breaking Andy Pafo's club record for third baseman by two.

Solo homer by winning pitcher Vern Law and Donn Clendenon and Jim Pagliaroni's three-run shot, all in the second inning, put the Pirates ahead to stay. Clendenon doubled home the other Pittsburgh runs in the fifth. Law gave up homers to Willie Davis and Ron Fairly on the way to his 12th victory.

Duke Snider to Quit Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Duke Snider of the San Francisco Giants and once one of baseball's most feared sluggers, announced Wednesday he would retire at the end of the season. Dick Young, sports writer of the Daily News, reported in his story from San Francisco.

Young is traveling with the New York Mets, who beat the Giants Wednesday 4-0.

Snider, an outfielder nearing his 38th birthday, starred with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and the Los Angeles Dodgers before he was traded to the Mets in 1963. The Mets sold him to the Giants early this season.

DeQueen Plays Bobcats Here Friday Night

DeQueen's highly-rated Leopards come to Hope tomorrow night in the home town opener for the Bobcats.

Although the Cats have already compiled a 1-1 record, this will be the first chance for the home crowd to view them in action. Both previous games were on the road.

The Bobcats have an unbalanced schedule this year. They pick up two teams, Prescott and Warren, and play both of them away from home.

DeQueen has a clean slate so far. Two weeks ago they shut out the Mena Bearcats 24-0. Quarterback Dick Knight passed for three touchdowns and set up the other with a run. Knight was 8-6 in the passing department. Actually, he didn't throw any incomplete. The other two passes were complete, only to Mena.

Last Friday the Leopards took the night off to rest up for Hope.

Here are what may turn out to be the improbable starting line-ups for both teams:

Orioles Blow Lead as Chisox Down Detroit

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

At the rate Hank Bauer's smoking cigarettes, if the Baltimore Orioles don't win the American League pennant, he might be able to get it for the coupons on the back of the pack.

Bauer, who admittedly has turned into a smokestack in the tension-filled final days of the pennant scramble, luffed and puffed Wednesday night as his Orioles blew sole possession of the American League lead by losing to Minnesota 2-1.

It was Baltimore's 14th loss in the last 25 games and dropped the Orioles into a flat-footed tie for first place with the Chicago White Sox while the third-place New York Yankees climbed to within one percentage point of the top.

And Bauer has been smoking so many cigarettes during the slump, he could make a steel mill look like it's on strike.

Bauer admitted it recently when he was asked how the tight struggle has affected him. "I haven't lost any hair, although it is a little whiter," he said. "I'm sleeping and eating all right, and I don't have ulcers."

Then he pointedly held up a lighted cigarette and said: "This is my fourth pack today."

And his fourth coupon, if he's smoking the right brand. If not, he could switch. It's easier than fighting.

Bauer has enough of a fight on his hands with the White Sox, who climbed into a tie for first by defeating Detroit 4-1, and the Yankees, 9-4 winners over the BATTING — Roger Maris, Yankees, collected his 1,000th major league hit, a two-run homer in the sixth inning that broke a 3-3 tie, carried New York to a 4-4 victory over Los Angeles and pulled the defending American League champions to within one percentage point of first place.

PITCHING — Camilo Pascual, Twins, scattered seven hits and struck out 12, including the side in the ninth inning, as Minnesota defeated Baltimore 2-1 and dropped the Orioles into a tie for the American League lead with the Chicago White Sox.

Los Angeles Angels

The Orioles and White Sox both have 13 games remaining to 18 for the Yankees, who have two less losses than the leaders. The Yankees could take over the top spot today by beating the Angels in the only AL game scheduled.

Elsewhere in the AL Wednesday, rookie Tony Conigliaro hit two homers as Boston crushed Kansas City 10-1 and Cleveland swept a doubleheader from Washington 3-1 and 3-2.

National League leading Philadelphia lost to Houston 6-5, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 3-2, Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-3, the New York Mets shut out San Francisco 4-0 and Pittsburgh downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-5.

The Twins beat the Orioles by packing two of their three hits off 16-game Wally Bunker and two successors for both their runs in the fourth inning.

The first hit was Harmon Killebrew's 47th homer, the second a double by winning pitcher Camilo Pascual that followed walks to Don Mincher and Jay Ward and gave the Twins a 2-1 lead.

Pascual, bringing his record to 14-11, gave up a run in the second inning on Boog Powell's double and a single by Brooks Robinson but was tough in the clutch the rest of the way, bringing his record to 14-11 with a seven-hitter.

The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning against Gary Peters on singles by Jerry Lumpe and Don Demeter around a wild pitch and held the edge behind Mickey Lolich's two-hit pitching until the White Sox struck in the seventh.

Bill Skowron's single, a double by Pete Ward and a wild pitch brought in a run before Jim Landis sent Chicago ahead 2-1 with a single. That proved enough.

Peters got the victory for an 18-8 record with Eddie Fisher's relief help while Lolich had his seven-game winning streak broken and wound up with a 16-8 record.

The Yankees snapped a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning when Roger Maris rapped the 1,000th hit of his major league career, a two-run shot that followed a walk to Bobby Richardson.

The Angels had pulled into a tie in the fifth with Tom Satriano's first homer of the season the big blow. Satriano, who had been the only player in the league without a homer in over 200 at-bats, connected in his 217th trip to the plate.

Conigliaro's two homers and one each by Dick Stuart and Bob Tillman tagged A's rookie Johnny (Blue Moon) Odom with the loss. Bill Monbouquette got the victory, although he was tagged for 10 hits.

Johnny Romano hit a homer for the Indians in each game, tying the opener 1-1 in the third and putting Cleveland ahead 3-1 in the sixth inning of the nightcap. Winning pitcher Sonny Siebert singled home the decisive run in the fifth inning of the first game.

Picking the Winners on Friday Night

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

El Dorado's hardy horses get the chance to find out this Friday night how tough those tough guys really are.

Those guys are the Fort Smith Northside Grizzlies, No. 1 ranked in this week's Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll.

The oldtown Wildcats are rated ninth in the poll, but a whopping 76 points back of the Grizzlies, who were first choice of nine of the 10 state sports writers in the balloting.

Rugged football is traditional at Fort Smith and El Dorado. Picking against Bill Stancill's Grizzlies has wrecked many a prognosticator, so let's ride with the poll.

Here's how we see them this week: Fort Smith 21, El Dorado 18.

It's what's up front that counts, and Fort Smith's got the most of it, front and back.

North Little Rock 14, Blytheville 7. But a good spot for a surprise.

Little Rock Hall 20, Hot Springs 14. The Trojans are proving they can move the ball, but not enough yet.

People Pay Tribute to Royal Pair

By EDDY GILMORE

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A teenage princess and a young king wed here Friday to stop a week of gay and regal ceremony made more colorful by the ancient grandeur of this sun-drenched land.

Since last Friday, King Constantine, 24, of Greece, and Denmark's pretty Princess Anne-Marie, 18, have set a fast and foot-aching royal pace.

The highlight of the staggering schedule was the grand state ball at the Athens Royal Palace.

For that party, the foreign guests who included kings, queens, princes and princesses in large but unassorted numbers, brought in several million dollars worth of jewels, tiaras and handmade gowns.

The most tiring events of the week, however, must have been the three folksy receptions that King Constantine held at Tatoi Palace 18 miles from Athens.

The receptions were open to all who could make the hot and dusty journey to the palace in its country setting.

The people came on foot, on bicycles, in cars, in buses and even on mules.

They showered the young couple with good wishes, and the couple seemed to like it. But it was rough on the royal flower beds.

The tall, handsome king has both a craving for speed and an eye for beauty.

He chose his "girl from the north" during his sister's wedding in Athens more than two years ago. Anne-Marie, a shy beauty, was a guest at the wedding then of Princess Sophie to Spanish Crown Prince Juan Carlos.

After their engagement in January 1963, the couple set their wedding for 1965, but it was advanced after the death of Constantine's father, King Paul, earlier this year.

When his father died, Constantine immediately ascended the throne. Strict upbringing by his German-born mother, Queen Frederika, and the democratic philosophy of his late father helped him prepare to rule this nation of 8.5 million. He quit fast driving.

Of his decision to become engaged to Anne-Marie he disclosed at the time:

"Our engagement was sudden, not planned beforehand by our parents. It was the first

Die Was Cast and Destroyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of the Mint almost came up with a surefire way to trick coin collectors out of hoarding next year's new silver dollars.

The mint, which has irritated collectors by deciding to keep stamping "1964" on John F. Kennedy memorial half-dollars next year, has been trying to stop the hoarding of the 45 million new silver dollars that also will be the first coined by the United States since 1935 and, for that reason, may be snapped up by collectors.

In testimony before the House Appropriations subcommittee recently, officials of the Mint said they considered a plan to stamp the new silver dollars with the date "1935" so collectors would have no reason to save them.

But they had to give the plan up, because the old 1935 die has been destroyed.

Opposition for Third Term Bid

SEATTLE (AP) — Gov. Albert D. Rosellini will face Daniel J. Evans, House floor leader in the last state legislature, in November's gubernatorial election.

The Democratic governor, seeking an unprecedented third consecutive term, was an easy winner in Tuesday's primary, turning back four contenders.

Evans, a Seattle engineer, defeated Richard G. Christensen, a former Lutheran minister who lost narrowly to veteran Sen. Warren G. Magnuson in 1962, for the Republican nomination.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson won the Democratic nomination for senator by ease. He will be opposed by Lloyd J. Andrews, former state superintendent of public instruction, in November.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Soap opera, traditionally a daytime diversion, went nighttime in just about the only television innovation of the new season as ABC's new "Peyton Place" had its premiere Tuesday evening.

Author Grace Metalious and her eyebrow-raising best seller received screen credits, so presumably faithful viewers can expect some racy stuff as the continued story gets rolling.

The first show in the twice-weekly continued story obviously was designed to introduce the large cast. Not very much happened, but it sure looks like lots of trouble ahead.

There's a sad-eyed, nervous-acting widow played by Dorothy Malone, who shows signs of being over protective about her teen-age daughter — Mia Farrow, Maureen O'Sullivan's oldest — who in turn seems eager to cut the silver cord. Then there's Ryan O'Neil playing a rich man's rebellious son who drives recklessly and seems pretty deeply involved with a girl from the wrong side of the tracks.

The girl's mother and the rich man obviously are emotionally involved but we don't know yet if either one is married to other people. The only action in the first installment was when the son became very upset when he caught his father kissing the woman.

Also there's a new doctor in town and from the way he acts, it's certain he is carrying a heavy burden of secret sorrow. We can expect some illness soon. Will the nervous widow have a breakdown? Will the rebellious son have an accident and get amnesia? I can't predict because we don't know yet whether the new doctor is a general practitioner, surgeon or psychiatrist.

Walter Brennan after all those "Real McCoy" years has come back to ABC, too, with a merry little comedy called "Tycoon." The first program was warm and amusing.

It was also, I suspect a television first, for it portrayed an enormously rich board chairman of a huge corporation as a simple, friendly, down-to-earth nice guy.

Brennan plays a fun-loving foxy grandpa who, to win a bet, sets out to prove that a smart man can still, without backing and at any age, make a success in life. He disguises himself, lands almost penniless in a small town and wangles a job in

Humphrey Is Coming to Arkansas

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey carries the Johnson-Humphrey campaign flag into the southland today with a thrust into Texas and Arkansas.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee, the President's top gun, aims to try to keep Texan Johnson's home state safe from Republican vote rustlers.

On the eve of his departure, Humphrey said in a television and radio interview on CBS' "Face the Nation."

— He believes Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, "is manipulating what is developing in Viet Nam for his political purposes."

— "We have no intention of pulling out of South Viet Nam" and no decisions involving the war there are being postponed until after the campaign.

— He disagrees with the view of Americans for Democratic Action that Cuba should be readmitted to the Organization of American States if it quits its program of subversion and arrives at a position of non-alignment.

— "The President of the United States is a man of good health, physically, mentally, morally and politically."

Humphrey took a two-day breather in the capital between campaign trips before heading for the Lone Star state.

Texas Republicans elected conservative John Tower to the Senate in 1961 after the late President John F. Kennedy narrowly carried the state with 50.5 per cent of the vote in 1960.

Democrats, although they express confidence Johnson will win Texas, are wary of Goldwater's strength, particularly in the southern part of the state.

Humphrey, who helped press the civil rights bill to enactment, scheduled stops today in Wichita Falls, Waco and San Antonio before winging over to Hot Springs, Ark., to spend the night.

Mistakes Get Him in Royal Ball

By EDDY GILMORE

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A language misunderstanding with a Greek taxi driver landed this country boy from Alabama smack in the midst of royalty Wednesday night at King Constantine's state ball.

Armed with an invitation from Queen Mother Frederika, I left my hotel with my Russian-born wife Tamara and told the taxi driver in bad Greek: "To the royal palace, please."

Instead of delivering us to the palace, the driver took us to the King George Hotel, reserved this week for kings, queens and other royal guests in Athens for the wedding Friday of Greece's young king to Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark.

At the hotel I realized a horrible mistake had been made and told the head porter my situation.

"It doesn't matter," he said with a laugh. "Just come with me."

As about 5,000 Greeks looked on, he ushered us to one of the palace limousines and sent us to the party.

The driver turned on the lights and we moved slowly toward the palace, crowds of Greeks cheering every foot of the way.

"That's King Farouk," yelled someone.

Beside a hedge at the palace, frock-coated officials bent low and kissed Tamara's hand.

Behind, ex-King Umberto of

Parents Die in Fire, Son Blamed

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill. (AP) — Richard Gaar, 15, of Milledgeville, has been charged with murder and arson after admitting that he started a fire in which his parents died.

Robert Puckett, deputy state fire marshal, said Gaar told questioners he emptied a two-gallon can of gasoline outside the bedroom of his sleeping parents a week ago and lit a match.

"He told us he knew he had done something wrong as soon as he lit the gasoline, but something kept urging him on," Puckett said.

Missouri Mule Cadet Mascot

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP) — A Missouri-born mule that changed its residence to Illinois is about to become the mascot of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

West Point's mascot, Hannibal, I, died last March. The academy's need was relayed to the Hannibal Chamber of Commerce by Lt. Thomas Gallagher of Hannibal.

The chamber had a difficult time locating a Missouri mule, but finally found an animal belonging to Forrest Baucum of Liberty, Ill.

He assured the chamber the mule was Missouri-born.

Italy, we walked forward, ambassadors and ministers bowing every foot of the way.

Finally I got too much. "Excuse me, but where in the hell am I supposed to go?" I asked a court official as we neared the head of the line.

"Who are you, sir?" he asked. "Just a very plain American," I replied. "Some taxi driver has really bugged us."

"Bugged you, sir?" he asked, sweeping us on toward an open pavilion inside the palace grounds.

There was no turning back.

Behind Umberto we approached the pavilion where King Constantine and Princess Anne-Marie sat with Queen Mother Frederika.

Frederika could not have been nicer. She probably wondered how Tamara and I got sandwiched between kings and queens, but she never showed it.

"Tino," she said to her son, "I want you to meet —"

From then on we were eating very high off the hog.

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Rooney jumped fully clothed into a swimming pool, was pulled into the ocean by a power boat and fell overboard during the first program of his new ABC comedy series, inventively called "Mickey," Wednesday night.

At another point, poor Rooney — really a highly talented actor and comedian — was scurrying around a resort town clad only in a three-quarter length mink coat.

All this in a vain quest for laughter and a thoroughly damp beginning.

The first program set the stage for the series, with Mickey and his standard situation-comedy family — pretty blonde wife, two children and a dog — arriving from Omaha to take possession of an inherited resort hotel and marina on the California coast. They find it losing $1,000 a month and hopelessly in debt to relatives of one Ling, uncomfortably played by Samme Tong who used to be so lovable in "Bachelor Father."

He's the unlovable hotel manager.

The program was preceded by a singing, swinging half-hour called "Shindig," featuring assorted stonking, guitar-playing young singers who were greeted with loud squeals from the studio audience. The squealers, when they appeared on camera, appeared to be of high school age.

Both of these programs come in what is probably television's toughest hour for new shows — opposite CBS' top-rated "Beverly Hillsbillies" and "Dick Van Dyke Show." And NBC launched its new "Wednesday Night at the Movies" with a great old Hitchcock suspense-romance, "To Catch a Thief," with Cary Grant and Grace Kelly. ABC probably will have trouble in this spot.

CBS casually dropped a most amusing half-hour special program into its early evening schedule. Harry Reasoner took up the delicate business of humor in politics.

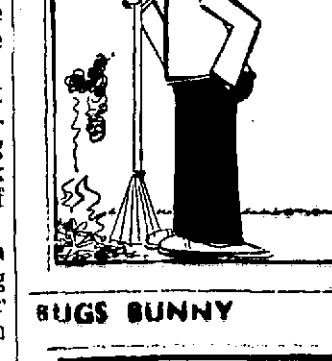

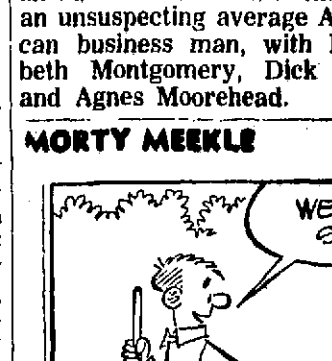

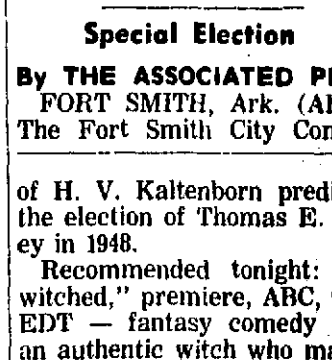

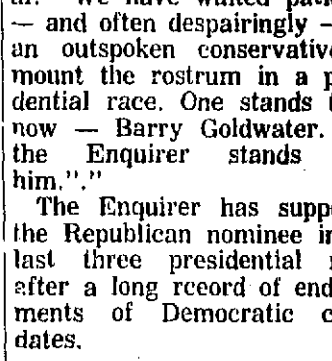

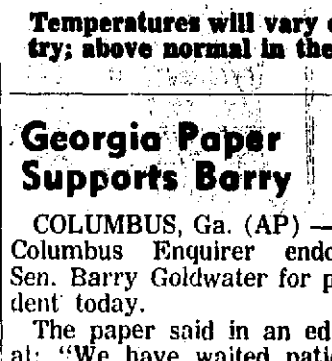

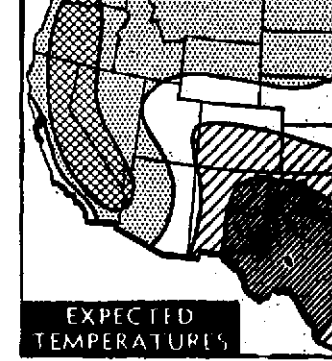

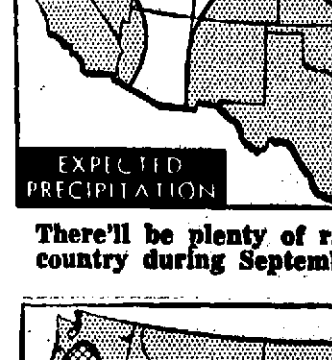

The program was primarily a series of film clips showing presidents from Herbert Hoover to Lyndon Baines Johnson making jokes and being witty. Stars of the presidential humor sweepstakes seemed to be Franklin D. Roosevelt in his famous "Fala" speech, defending his dog, and Harry S. Truman doing that lethal imitation

Communist Meet Called Anti-Chinese

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—A Communist Chinese delegate threw the first business session of Moscow's International Youth Forum into pandemonium today with charges that it "reeks of an anti-China campaign."

Boos, derisive whistles and catcalls interrupted a Chinese speaker when he denounced a report's criticism of the Chinese.

A Chinese delegate seized the rostrum over protests from the chairman of the meeting of youth organizations from more than 120 countries.

The Chinese was followed in quick succession by pro-Chinese speakers from North Korea and Indonesia.

The controversial report was delivered by Benham Petros of Iraq, a member of the forum secretariat. He reported the Chinese had refused to attend preparatory meetings and later failed to give satisfactory answers to queries about their attitude toward the meeting.

A Chinese delegate demanded the floor on a point of information. Chairman Enoko Opili of Kenya quickly moved adoption of the report by a show of hands, but the Chinese speaker launched into a vigorous denial of Petros' reproaches against the Peking delegates.

"Some people are continuing to accuse us and mobilize public opinion against us," he charged. He concluded with a demand that the conference leaders respect the "elementary principles of democracy at international conferences."

Opili said he would pass the Chinese protest on to the forum presidium. When he finished speaking, he glanced across the stage to find a Korean and his translator standing quietly before the microphone.

The Korean criticized "the abnormal situation that has developed" at the meeting. He accused Petros' report of "phrasing-mongering" against the Chinese and demanded "The immediate retraction of accusations and attacks that have taken place."

The Rosetta Stone received its name from having been accidentally found in 1799 by one of Napoleon's officers, while excavating at Fort St. Julien, four miles from Rosetta, a town at the western mouth of the Nile.

Opili said he would allow no more speakers, but a pro-Peking Indonesian delegate ran up to the rostrum and voiced a defense of the Chinese.

up for several blocks. Police said Droner maintained a license for his revolver after he retired from the police force five years ago for reasons of disability. He was booked on a homicide charge.

NEW YORK (AP) — A street peddler of "dancing" paper dolls was shot to death on Broadway near Times Square Wednesday night, and the gunfire threw the theater and dinner-hour crowd of thousands into turmoil.

Chief of Detectives Philip J. Walsh said the peddler, Clarence Ritchie, 40, Negro, was slain by retired policeman Sgt. Peter Droner, 37, in an argument over the dolls, which Droner called a swindle.

Thousands of persons gathered at the scene of the shooting, on the west side of Broadway between 46th and 7th Sts., shortly after 7 p.m. Hundreds of autos halted and traffic was tied

Poultry and Beef Feature at Market

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The seasonal change to cooler days is turning housewives to roasts and baking fowl at the nation's stores this weekend.

Beef roasts are widely featured this weekend, with one national chain offering selections like these in the Northeast:

Rib roast for 79 cents a pound, boneless chuck pot roasts for 65 and sirloin and round roasts for 89 cents.

Other beef features include ground chuck and corned beef. For pork fanciers, loin roasts are widespread features.

Baking hens from culled flocks are offered at many stores, and turkeys are a frequent feature.

Vegetable selections include cabbage, carrots, corn, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Fruit offerings also reflect the season. Bartlett pears, McIntosh apples, Tokay grapes and Mexican oranges are moving to market.

More general fruit features include bananas, plums, limes, nectarines and melons.

Grandpa Louis H. Moore learned at Conway recently that though David Fleming will only be three years old next month he already is up on his grammar.

Moore was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Joe Lee Fleming, when the situation arose.

"Why is it you say 'what' so frequently," asked Moore of his grandson.

"Grandpa," replied David. "Mama won't let me say 'how come'."

"Mama" is a former Hendrix College English professor.

Once a fireman, always a fireman, the saying goes.

Bennie Olivera, who retired from the Texarkana fire department about a year ago, found it true last week.

When he drove up to a fire on North State Line Street, he automatically climbed out of the car, grabbed a hose and started working side by side with the firemen.

Mayor Herbert Sanderson of Jonesboro is still taking a little kidding about this incident:

During the Craighead County Fair, Sanderson worked hard at the Band Booster's Club booth. He is a member of the club.

While he was there, a city employee came out to confer with him on some work problem. The two talked a minute, then the city employee strolled away.

He strolled across the aisle in the exhibition building, leaned against the counter of the computing Home Demonstration Club booth—and ordered a sandwich and soft drink.

And Woody Wilson of Jonesboro tells this one about the fair:

A man who apparently had imbibed a bit too much kept staring at the dummy in the space capsule on display at the event.

Finally, he turned to a companion and remarked, "I think he's just asleep."

Back in 1956 Anthony Leone of Little Rock, an engineer with the Bureau of Public Roads, spent time trying to get the old Salado Creek Bridge southwest of Batesville restored by the state as a tourist attraction.

Before he could do so, raging waters of the creek washed away the historic stone structure, built in 1867-70 by Col. J.A. Schabel.

Leone, sad and frustrated at the incident, vowed if he ever got another chance to get an old structure like that saved, he would work harder and faster.

After that, most members of a local committee working with Leone lost track of him. Last week, he sent them a reprint of the Journal of American Concrete, concerning a 70-year-old bridge in Iowa being preserved as "the first reinforced concrete to be built in the United States."

Leone wrote, "If only we had been as successful as this." He said the old Salado bridge "certainly surpasses this Iowa bridge in age, size and beauty."

Against Gambling

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Lewisville Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has declined to support the proposed amendment to legalize gambling in Garland County.

The Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce has asked the Lewisville chamber and others to back the amendment.

"We are not favorable to converting Hot Springs to a Las Vegas," said Glenn Parks, president of the Lewisville chamber.

1964 Seen as Period of Transition

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The euphoric business cycle is by no means dead but may well take a new form. That is the view of economists who see 1964 as a period of transition.

Behind lies the great wave of economic growth that followed the war, first in the United States and in more recent years in Europe and Japan. Ahead lies a new wave fed by growing populations and technological improvements.

This view of how 1964 fits into the likely pattern of the rest of the decade is being explored today at a meeting of business and government economists sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board. Most agree that the current situation is favorable largely because the 43-month business upswing hasn't produced the excesses which have toppled its predecessors.

But the Board's director of economic research, Albert T. Sommers, notes the peculiarities of the economic scene as 1964 enters its final months:

"High employment coexists with prosperity. Tax reduction is legislated in the face of a budget deficit; competition remains intense in the middle of a record level of plant and equipment outlay; in the middle of a boom, nobody wants to carry inventory, and price indexes refuse to budge.

"Monetary policy continues easy in the presence of continuing deficits in the balance of payments; an apartment boom flourishes while the single-family housing market languishes, and the birth rate falls."

The board thinks a short-term recession in the middle 60s is a possibility due to the rapid expansion of debt and the cyclical markets in the past few years.

But the long-term prospect is much rosier: growing supply, broad investment opportunities, increased technological gains, and responsive markets — and, above all, rising productivity through technology. The board sees the "technological drought" of the last half of the 50s giving way to a new rain of technology in laboratories for research and development."

This view is accepted in general by some of the economists at the meeting, with individual reservations.

Voting Today Centers on Governors

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) —

A three-way contest for the Democratic nomination for governor highlights primary voting today in the nation's smallest state.

The Democrats have four top contests. All Republican candidates for statewide offices, Congress and U.S. Senate, are unopposed.

Lt. Gov. Edward P. Galloway, who carries the Democratic party endorsement in the contest for governor, is opposed by State Rep. Alexander R. Walsh and John L. Rego, a former state agriculture director.

Gov. John H. Chafee, seeking a second two-year term, heads the Republican ticket.

Besides the fight for the gubernatorial nomination, the Democrats have contests for lieutenant governor, state attorney general and Congress in the 1st District.

Galloway has ignored his primary opponents and concentrated on Chafee. Walsh has focused his attack on Galloway, describing the lieutenant governor as a "weak" and "careless" candidate who, Walsh says, cannot win in November against Chafee.

Rego contends his administrative experience qualifies him for the governorship.

and in the view of experts here an exclusive preoccupation with the weapons angle would obscure its real significance.

Of critical importance, in the view of U.S. officials, is the fact that for the first time, so far as they could recall, Khrushchev has implicitly threatened his Chinese neighbors — still technically his allies — with massive destruction if they ever start encroaching on Soviet territory.

To Western experts, his maneuver suggests that the Sino-Soviet conflict is not only deep and irreversible, but that it may be moving into a new and more dangerous phase. The one possible modification in what he is reported by the Japanese to have said is that he could claim, if he wished, at some future time, that he was misunderstood, or that his views were misrepresented.

Before making a final judgment, U.S. analysts were waiting to see what, if anything, the Soviet press would say about his remarks to the Japanese.

Extent of China, Russia Fuss Unknown

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev possesses a notable power to agitate and alarm the Western allies. He needs only to issue a murky claim to the invention of some of a vast search for clues that could throw light on his dark secret. Whether he similarly arouses the apprehensions of the Chinese Communists is a question.

The conflict between two closed systems like those of the Soviet Union and Red China, where whole peoples exist in such secrecy as their leaders do is different from a conflict between the Soviet Union and the Western allies.

In the West, interested citizens join in open discussion of foreign policy issues. Their leaders are more or less responsive to demands for information. Even Khrushchev has sometimes shown a talkative awareness of public opinion in the Western countries.

The most fateful confrontation of powers since the U.S.-Soviet showdown over Cuba in October 1962 now seems to be building up between the Soviet Union and Communist China. But so little is known outside their two ruling groups about the real nature and extent of this quarrel that its future course and possible flash point are extremely difficult to chart.

Much more would be known in the outside world if Khrushchev and the Red Chinese leader, Mao Tze-Tung, felt any compulsion to keep their own people closely informed. Their practice, however, throughout the five years the conflict has been growing, has been to employ public pronouncement only as weapons in the fight.

Much of the struggle, therefore, is for practical purposes secret and even the impact and significance of those moves which are made in the open are extremely difficult for the rest of the world to measure. So it is with the maneuver made this week by Khrushchev, although in the judgment of many Washington officials his words had a warlike ring.

Speaking to a Japanese parliamentary delegation, Khrushchev attacked Chinese claims to 500,000 square miles of Soviet territory. He said Soviet borders are sacred, and he asserted that the Soviet Union has developed a new weapon capable of wiping out life on earth.

His statement instantly raised the question whether the Soviet Union has gained a jump on the United States in the perfection of some instrument of mass destruction — a cobalt bomb, a bigger hydrogen bomb, or some kind of mysterious new weapon like a massive death ray device.

American officials familiar with military and diplomatic intelligence on affairs in the Soviet Union say there are speculative possibilities but that to the best of their knowledge the Russians have not produced any fantastic new weapon. They concede, however, that prudence requires the United States now to find out whether Khrushchev meant literally what he said.

But Khrushchev's weapon-brandishing remark was not aimed as a threat against this or any other Western country

LET'S TELL THE TRUTH ABOUT WELFARE, MR. ROCKEFELLER!

The Rockefeller forces (most of them are paid workers) are systematically contacting Arkansas Welfare recipients and telling them the following:

"You think the Democratic Legislature has helped you. You think Governor Faubus has helped to increase your welfare grant. Neither has helped you at all. The increase in your grant has all been due to increase in Federal Money."

The above statement is untrue, and Rockefeller and his hired workers know it! But he still makes this charge in his speeches.

THIS IS THE REAL TRUTH ABOUT WELFARE

In 1955, the total amount of State money appropriated was $9,500,000. In 1957, at the recommendation of Governor Faubus, the Democratic Legislature increased this amount to $14,000,000. And since then, at the Governor's further recommendation, State appropriation has increased to more than $18,000,000.

In other words—State money for welfare has been increased by about 100 per cent, and grants to welfare recipients have increased accordingly.

Federal funds for welfare have been increased by a Democratic Congress. However, if the State welfare fund had not been raised, Arkansas could not have received any of the increase.

What Mr. Rockefeller seems to be conveniently forgetting (or else he does not know how welfare really works) is that Federal money has to be matched with State money before it can be obtained. If he will deliberately try to mislead the people of Arkansas on this matter, what can we expect on other issues?

For the record, let's look at other improvements in the State Welfare Program made possible by the Democratic Legislature and Governor Faubus.

- Hospital Program: State funds were appropriated to match Federal funds under the Kerr-Mills Bill. (Sponsored by the late U. S. Senator Robert Kerr of Oklahoma and our own Congressman Wilbur Mills.)
- The Disabled: In the category of totally and permanently blind and disabled persons aided, the number has been raised from about 600 to 6,000. Nine out of 10 disabled persons now being helped would be cut off if this part of the program reverted back to 1954 before Governor Faubus took office.
- Surplus Commodities: These foods have been stored for years, and no one thought of distributing them to needy people before Governor Faubus took office. Distribution cost is paid for by State and county funds with cooperation of the county judges—but WITHOUT federal matching funds. Commodities also go to schools for lunch programs, hospitals, boys' and girls' camps, non-profit nursing homes, the State Hospital, Blind and Deaf Schools, Training Schools, etc.
- Nursing Homes: When Governor Faubus took office, there were only 25 nursing homes. Now there are 160 located throughout the State in nearly every county. Here again, increased appropriation of State funds by the Democratic Legislature to match available federal funds made this tremendous forward leap possible.

Some of you will continue to be misled by Mr. Rockefeller and his untruths. This can't be helped. But before you swallow his hook, line, and sinker too, remember that part of his campaign strategy is to create non-existing situations. For continued growth forward in Arkansas Welfare Programs, support and elect Governor Orval E. Faubus and the Democratic candidates for the Legislature.

Future Clues Indicated by Steel Orders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Clues to the future trend of consumer and industrial prices are showing up in the rising volume of steel orders. And the early signs suggest another price upswing may be in the making.

This is because the steel orders now pouring in seem increasingly to reflect two aspects of business thinking just now. One is that the economic boom will continue well into next year and more consumer goods can and will be sold. The other, and perhaps more significant, is that inventories of steel and other materials should be built up at least as a hedge against either rising prices or work stoppages if labor pushes demands for higher pay and more fringe benefits.

In steel itself prices of a number of products have been rising. Costs of other metals have risen. Price weakness that characterized some other industrial commodities is beginning to abate. Actual market costs often are above list prices.

There has been no general price upsurge in the last three or four years because production capacity has been more than equal to demand and the resulting competition held prices down.

But many now foresee this period coming to an end. They cite the business expansion in the last three years which has put much of this once idle capacity to work. Many industries are now operating at or near their most profitable ratio to capacity.

Until plans to build more facilities are carried out some time in the future, the supplies of some basic materials and of industrial and consumer goods will be under increasing pressure from demand, offering an opportunity for price hikes. Rising labor costs, which many now think lie ahead, will be only one of the causes.

Steel orders attract attention just now for several reasons. One is that steel itself is a necessity for many other industries and thus something of a bellwether in both production and pricing.

Another is the close relationship of the steel and auto industries. The wage and fringe benefit contracts that auto workers achieve are seen by many as a model for what the steel workers will be seeking next spring.

All this could change. But for some time to come, steel orders will be closely watched as offering one of the first clues to how business sizes up the effects of the auto labor contracts.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. dropped four new series into its schedule Sunday night. At least, ABC calls them new. In spite of a few new faces and a couple of new titles, they seemed very familiar.

First there was the science-fiction-action-adventure effort called "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" after the motion picture from which it was adapted. This 60-minute drama was so full of the various elements on so many fronts it was pretty hard to follow the plot, if any.

There was a super-powerful nuclear submarine and its brave crew on a secret mission to the Arctic to balance with atomic explosions a couple of earthquakes that were going to destroy the Western world.

There was also the evil "powerful worldwide force" that wanted the disasters to occur, represented by shadowy bald-headed men with Oriental features. The hostile force—identified — kept bombing the submarine and shaking up the crew but didn't seem to hurt things much. There was also an undersea battle between divers and the biggest, phoniest octopus ever seen on the small screen.

Small boys of all ages may find it great fun.

Cheesecake Variation

Just about every man loves cheesecake—and here's a new way to vary the scene. Into a pie shell goes a "cheesecake" filling to be garnished, if desired, with strawberries. Because the filling is made with reliable, unflavored gelatin, there's no baking involved. The No-Bake Cheesecake Pie is simple to make, so wonderful your family will demand it often.

No-Bake Cheesecake Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

2 cups (16 ounces) cream cottage cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 9-inch baked pie shell

Mix together gelatin and sugar in top of double boiler. Stir in milk. Place over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until gelatin is dissolved, about 8 minutes. Remove from heat; add lemon rind; cool. Sieve cottage cheese into large mixing bowl, or beat with electric mixer until smooth. Stir in cooled gelatin mixture, salt and lemon juice. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into prepared shell. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with additional whipped cream, and fresh or frozen strawberries. YIELD: 1 9-inch pie.

Discipline Asked of Viet Nam People

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Safety through an abortive military rebellion, Premier Nguyen Khanh called on his people for discipline, honor and unity in the struggle ahead for a free democracy. The weekend crisis had gone full circle.

A standoff that developed with quick reinforcements of loyal troops in the capital and behind-the-scenes negotiations by American officers and diplomats kept Saigon from being turned into a slaughterhouse. The coup collapsed Monday morning without a shot being fired.

The United States, which regards Khanh as the man most likely to succeed in pressing the American-backed war against the Communist Viet Cong, welcomed the failure of the bold if hastily planned move by Maj. Gen. Duong Van Duc to oust him.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk summed up the official reaction in Washington, saying: "I am pleased that the trouble is over and that the government can now get on with its main tasks."

Some of the 2,000 troops of the erstwhile rebel force were still in the city — looting at a park and flirting with Saigon girls — as Khanh flew in from Cape St. Jacques to proclaim again the aims of his regime.

The major general, 37, who has guided South Viet Nam's government since Jan. 30, had conferred more than an hour with U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson, and the figurehead chief of state, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, at Cape St. Jacques, a field headquarters 40 miles south of Saigon.

Khanh told a news conference in Saigon that his government's main objective is to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

He said he was moved by the spirit of unity shown by the armed forces in averting bloodshed.

"Facing the threat of internal strife, we proved to be very worthy and were able to save the blood of all our fighters against the Viet Cong," he said.

Seated at the conference table with Khanh were the officers who saved his job. These included the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who held Saigon airport and sent warplanes menacingly over the rebel ranks; and Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien, commander of paratroopers.

Duc was notably absent. Ky and other loyal generals announced, however, that none of the rebel officers would be punished.

The chief thing the rebel officers had in common was that they had been shifted or expected to be soon in the shake-up Khanh has instituted under pressure of the Buddhists, the chief religious faction in South Viet Nam.

Upholds Conviction of Rainmaker

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court upheld Monday a court conviction of a self-styled rainmaker Homer Berry of North Little Rock on a charge of being drunk in a public place.

Berry had appealed the Springdale conviction, which carried a $15 fine. His appeal was turned down by Washington County Circuit Court, and then the supreme court.

A Springdale policeman testified that he found Berry asleep in Berry's pickup truck with the motor running, and that he smelled alcohol on Berry's breath. Berry said he had drunk two beers, but wasn't drunk. He appealed on the grounds that he was not in a public place when arrested, but the supreme court held the highway right of way was a public place.

Burns was in his favorite role of off-stage chorus, fingering a cigar and explaining the action — a routine mixup of identities. Finally there was the "Bing Crosby Show," which was pleasantly familiar because of the presence of the easy-mannered, lightly humorous Crosby.

Bing plays a contented spouse with two teen-age daughters. The opening show had his wife — Beverly Garland — disturbed because their 20-year marriage had "a quiet kind of contentment" when she wanted romantic excitement. That's a theme we've seen on everything from Donna Reed to the Flintstones. Even so, Bing is relaxing to watch — perhaps a bit too relaxing, in fact.

plan targets they are obliged to fulfill.

Afanasyev, who also is a deputy premier of the Russian Republic, set forth detailed criticism of present operations, noting that Pravda had raised the question of "combining centralized direction of the national economy with maximum scope for the display of initiative and independence by collectives of enterprises."

Afanasyev did not go into the details of the new proposals and made no comment on their emphasis on profitability and the elimination of restrictive plan targets.

Red Plants Free to Seek a Profit

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — A top Soviet economic administrator gave cautious endorsement Monday to proposals for setting factory bosses free to chase profits just like their capitalist counterparts.

Sergei Afanasyev, chairman of the Economic Council of the giant Russian Federated Republic, gave an important boost to growing pressure for sweeping reforms of the Soviet economic apparatus in an article published by the Communist party organ, Pravda.

Afanasyev's remarks were the first endorsement of the far-reaching proposed reform measures from a high-ranking government economic official. They also appeared to indicate crystallization of opinion on top policy-making levels which could result in action on the proposals — possibly at the Communist party Central Committee session in November.

Pravda in recent weeks has publicized proposals for making profit instead of plan fulfillment the measure of economic performance. The scheme would give factory directors greater freedom of action by doing away with many of the detailed

Preserve Fresh Tomato Flavor

When red juicy tomatoes are at their full blush of ripeness, it's wise to can some for wintertime enjoyment. It's easy to do at home with simple canning methods for cold or hot pack tomatoes. The secret is in the seasoning; Tabasco Liquid red pepper spice and salt are the only flavorings needed.

Use only perfect, ripe tomatoes. To loosen skins, dip into boiling water about 1/2 minute, then dip quickly into cold water. Cut out stem ends and skin tomatoes.

Cold Pack: Leave tomatoes whole or cut in halves or quarters. Pack in glass jars to 1/2 inch of top, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add no water. Add 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco and 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints; add 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco and 1 teaspoon salt to quarts. Process in boiling water bath (212°F.) pint jars, 35 minutes; quart jars, 45 minutes.

Hot Pack: Halve tomatoes. Do not add water, bring to a boil, stirring often. Pack in hot glass jars to 1/2 inch of the top. Add 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco and 1/2 teaspoon salt to pints; add 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco and 1 teaspoon salt to quarts. Process in boiling water bath (212°F.) pint jars, 10 minutes; quart jars, 10 minutes.

Youngster Helps Pilots in Training

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — A bright electronic youngster is helping teach jet pilots to make carrier landings, and fourth-grade students to conjugate Spanish verbs.

The youngster is television tape recording, just eight years old but a $40-million-a-year industry.

"And in five more years, the industry will be five times larger — $200-million-a-year," predicts C. Gus Grant, vice president-operations of Ampex Corp., which has supplied about 75 per cent of the television recorders used throughout the world.

The recorders are growing smaller, simpler, cheaper and ever more versatile, explains Grant.

When Ampex introduced videotape in 1956, the recorders cost $50,000. Compact, portable recorders brought out last year were priced at around $12,000. Educators, who had been stymied by the higher price tag, led the buy-line or the cheaper models, Ampex says. Several hundred U.S. school systems and colleges now regularly use closed-circuit television recording systems.

A lively puppet may be used to capture attention in a grammar-school Spanish class. Typically, the recorder and a prepared lesson are carried by station wagon to seven schools in the same district and plugged into television receivers in up to four classrooms simultaneously.

The electronic technique of feeding pictures from a television camera to a recorder, capturing the whole thing electronically on moving magnetic tape, was adopted at the outset by networks and television stations.

The equipment permits programs broadcast in New York at 9 p.m. local time to be shown at 9 p.m. local time in Chicago, Denver and San Francisco without loss of picture quality. Today, says Ampex, about half the scheduled programs on local stations are recorded in advance.

Military services liked the electronic baby immediately. Now almost all U.S. Navy aircraft carriers boast television recording systems.

Cameras spotted over the ship feed pictures of each landing and take off to the recorders. The tape also carries data on flight number, data, aircraft air speed, wind velocity and even the vocal instructions of the landing signal officer.

Doctors use television recording to analyze fluoroscope pictures, moving pictures of internal organs and bones that can be studied as often as needed without overexposing patients to potentially dangerous rays.

Ampex estimates sales in the whole field of automatic document storage and retrieval will reach $1.5 billion within a decade.

The first close-up pictures of the moon were televised from Ranger 7 and radioed to earth, received and preserved on magnetic tape. The magnetic recordings were converted to film for distribution to the press.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — The scene is bizarre, like something out of a movie.

After a morning of filming locations for "The Sandpiper" in a rocky cove, Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton climb the bluff to sit down to lunch at one of the picnic tables set up for the movie company. A hundred yards away is California Highway 1 and it is lined with tourists who stare at the famous pair.

The stars sip their wine, a French rose, eat heartily of the plain location lunch, and regale their fellow workers and a few visitors with stories. Burton is a noted raconteur; his wife keeps up with his repartee.

The Burtons are not unaware of the audience on the highway.

"Notice the ones with binoculars," he says. "Yesterday there was a fellow up there with a huge spyglass. As I was leaving for the set, the wind was just right and I could hear his comment to his companion: 'Yes, he is peckmarked.'"

Elizabeth adds: "I was going into my trailer the day before when I heard a bunch of girls screaming, 'Liz! Liz!' I looked up and gave a little wave, and one of them said, 'We think you're still pretty.' I went into the trailer feeling very creamy in the bones and I started to count the gray in my hair."

There are indeed a few strands of gray in her hair, but at 32 she is in splendid shape. A fortnight of diet and exercise at their Puerto Vallarta villa put both the Burtons in trim for "The Sandpiper."

They will need to be in trim for their future schedule. After locations in Monterey and Big Sur, they will fill minitrials in Paris. Burton will go immediately into "The Spy Who Came In From the Cold," which will shoot in London, Ireland and Munich.

The pair return to California next spring when she will star in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" with Jack Lemmon as the probable co-star. The casting may cause some lifted eyebrows, since the role in the Edward Albee play has been taken by forthright actresses.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ben F. Hawkins Construction Co. of Lake Village has been awarded a $22,090 contract by Army Engineers for resurfacing of the eight-mile access road to the site of Lock and Dam No. 1 on the Arkansas River.

The road joins Arkansas 44 at Tichnor in Arkansas County and extends southward to near the Nady community. It was built two years ago to provide access to construction of locks and dams at the lower end of the river.

The resurfacing will include widening the road from 22 to 30 feet.

Barry Says Democrats Forgot South

By WALTER R. MEARS

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater charged into the South today with a drumbeat of criticism for the Supreme Court and he charged that some Democrats don't even think the South is part of the United States.

"This country wants a change," he said.

Goldwater said he senses a deep concern among Americans about "the drift of our government," and about foreign affairs and the way the administration deals with communism.

He said modern Democrats belie the heritage of Jefferson.

He said some of them think the Supreme Court "can rule any way but down the path of the Constitution."

Goldwater said a Jeffersonian Democrat could not accept the court's decision ordering reapportionment of state legislatures.

Some people "don't think the South is a real part of the United States," he told some 500 people at a Republican breakfast.

"In fact," he said, "you're going to be visited by one most any day." Goldwater said he was talking about Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

Goldwater went from the breakfast to a hotel balcony and declared a real two-party system is growing in the South.

The crowd packed the streets for a block, but police officials would not estimate its size.

The Arizona senator ripped into President Johnson's handling of the crisis in Viet Nam.

Goldwater told an airport crowd at Winston-Salem he is

Strom, Barry Alike in Many Ways

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond and Sen. Barry Goldwater are thinking in many ways it's no wonder they're apparently lining up together.

Thurmond, a South Carolina Democrat, reportedly will announce tonight (1) he is going to support the presidential candidacy of Republican Goldwater, and (2) switch from being a Democrat to being a Republican.

Here are just a few of the great issues on which the two men look like twins: the nuclear test-ban treaty, civil rights, and the $11.5-billion tax cut Congress passed this year. They were against all of them.

The last time anything like a switch happened was in 1964 when Sen. Wayne Morse, an Oregon Republican, turned his back on the presidential candidacy of Dwight D. Eisenhower, quit the Republicans, and supported Adlai E. Stevenson.

He didn't move over to the Democratic side of the Senate until 1964. But any comparison with Thurmond stops there. Morse is a liberal. Thurmond and Goldwater are two of the most conservative members of the Senate.

Thurmond, 61, and Goldwater, 56, are both major generals in the U.S. Reserves. Thurmond with the Army, Goldwater with the Air Force. Both served in World War II.

It wouldn't be the first time Thurmond abandoned the Democratic party. He did it before in 1948 over the civil rights issue and became the States Rights presidential candidate. He has been in the Senate since 1954.

He says he voted for Eisenhower in 1952 when Morse was voting for Stevenson.

Thurmond and Goldwater both voted against the nuclear test-ban treaty with the Soviet Union, passed 80 to 19 by the Senate in September 1963. Both voted against the tax cut last February.

Last June both voted against the civil rights bill. Thurmond, who has been consistently against civil rights legislation, said this year's measure was unconstitutional. That was Goldwater's argument, too.

Both have complained about riots and "lawlessness" in the streets of cities. Both have advocated bombing Communist supply routes into South Viet Nam.

Thurmond and Goldwater have been highly critical of the Supreme Court. Goldwater no later than Tuesday. Thurmond has said some of the court's decisions have "been of great aid and comfort to the Communists."

Thurmond and Goldwater have both been critical of the Ku Klux Klan. Goldwater said he didn't want its support in this year's election.

Thurmond has said "the people as a whole in the South are not in accord with the feelings of the Ku Klux Klan. And I do not look for it to be very strong down there."

Both Thurmond and Goldwater seem to think the Soviet Union could be scared into backing down if the United States threatened to sever diplomatic relations with it.

Both Thurmond and Goldwater of the Democratic administration over the past four years, those of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, with the complaint they were trying to take too much control over daily life.

Backing for Amendment 54

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. H. D. Luck of Arkadelphia, chairman of the Committee for Voter Registration, said Tuesday that Amendment 54, which would set up a permanent registration system, would eliminate block control of poll taxes as political threats.

He referred to a statement by Charles A. Stewart, executive secretary of the Arkansas Nursing Home Association. Stewart asked for a list of poll tax receipts and numbers of the 12,000 nursing home employees and patients in the state to make "any candidate feel that we represent a large part of the population."

World News

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Soviet Union is expected to veto a Security Council resolution demanding an end to the Indonesian-Malaysian fighting.

Norway introduced the resolution Tuesday.

Informed sources said the Russians would veto it because Indonesia opposes it.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno decreed new emergency measures for Indonesia Tuesday night, announcing that he would appoint administrators with sweeping powers in certain provinces.

Diplomatic observers said the edict appeared to be aimed mainly at Indonesia's Communist party. It has been challenging the government's authority by staging unauthorized strikes and boycotts against the United States.

PARIS (AP) — Cops in skirts appeared on Paris streets for the first time Tuesday.

About 15 women are practicing with regular traffic policemen. Provided they can make sense out of Paris traffic — not an easy task for anyone — they may go to work on a regular basis.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — With the traditional shout of liberty from a balcony of the National Palace, President Adolfo Lopez Mateos Tuesday night opened Mexico's annual observance of Independence Day.

An estimated 250,000 persons packed the plaza in front of the palace for the ceremony commemorating the "Grito de Dolores" — cry of Dolores — issued on Sept. 16, 1810, by the priest Miguel Hidalgo, first leader of the Mexican revolution.

TOKYO (AP) — An 8.2-mile monorail between Tokyo's International Airport and the city was inaugurated today. The double-track system is expected to carry 30,000 persons daily and make the trip in 15 minutes.

It takes from an hour to 90 minutes to drive from the airport to the city.

The system was built in 15 months at a cost of $54.4 million.

Canned Clings Enhance Pancakes

Versatile canned cling peaches play three important roles in "Peach and Cheese Pancakes," a hearty and unusual main dish for a weekend brunch or Sunday supper.

Some of the juicy clings are diced and folded into the fluffy spiced cream cheese filling for stacked "over-size" pancakes. Diced peaches also go in the peach-syrup-and-lemon sauce that is spooned over the peach-and-cheese pancakes. And plump peach slices provide the golden garnish for each serving. Accompanied by hot link sausages, "Peach and Cheese Pancakes" are as much fun to assemble as they are good to eat.

With California's record-setting 1964 pack of top-quality clings now so abundant in markets, it's definitely time to enjoy peaches to your heart's content.

Peach and Cheese Pancakes

1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese 1/2 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons granulated sugar 2 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice 2 cups packaged pancake mix
Salt Cooked link sausages

Drain peaches, saving 1/4 cup syrup. Reserve a few slices for garnish; dice remainder. Soften cheese in mixer. Add granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt and nutmeg; whip until fluffy. Fold in 1/2 cup diced peaches. Combine cornstarch, brown sugar and pinch salt. Blend in peach syrup and remaining lemon juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Stir in remaining diced peaches. Keep warm. Prepare pancake mix as package directs. Cook 5 large (8-inch) pancakes, one at a time, on hot griddle. (Allow about 1/2 cup batter per cake.) Spread cheese mixture on cakes. Stack cakes. Garnish top with peach slices. Cut into wedges. Serve immediately with hot peach sauce and sausages. Makes 6 or 6 servings.

Ives pulled up his knees and wrapped his arms about them moodily staring at the leap of flames. Several minutes passed with no other sound but the crackle of burning sticks and then abruptly Twillet, watching him, chuckled.

"Thought you never was going to spot him."

Ives' tightened stare had reached beyond the fire, held by what looked to be a bundle of rags indifferently dropped against the darker back wall. But it was more than this. Ives swallowed, and again like something had caught in his throat, a shudder shaking him. "That ain't a man you..."

"My dog," Twillet grinned, obviously enjoying the look on Frank's face. "Powerful stubborn—real ugly he's been. Bite if you give 'im a halfway chance, but he's learnin'." Twillet's shoulders shook below the shine of his teeth. "Might have to break a few more bones but he'll settle into it. He used to bristle every time I went near him. Makes a man think, don't it?"

Leering down at Ives he stood tossing the pistol from one hand to the other. "Figure I'll get me a chain for you—" Ives' left knee dropped, throwing the leg out in front of him. It startled Twillet enough that he missed his catch and had to make a wild grab to latch onto his plaything, laying hold of the barrel inches short of the floor.

"Too late he saw the stubby boot gun in Ives' fist. He didn't have a prayer. But he was desperate enough to try. He collapsed when Ives' bullet came out of the back of his head."

Frank Ives didn't give him a second look. All his concern was for the man in the corner. The fellow was really in terrible shape, the result of the Twillet pleasures he'd absorbed, every tooth in his head either gone or broken. But he was rational enough, and able to talk after Ives had pulled the gag from his mouth.

The sun stood an hour above the horizon when Frank Ives came into the yard at Diamond F. He would have greatly preferred to have fetched the man with him but with those twisted legs he would never have made it. Promising to send someone back with a wagon, Ives, having done all he could for the fellow he found in the cave, climbed aboard Twillet's mount and, picking up his own, struck out for whatever help he could find.

He hadn't counted on pounding leather this far. Jerre French's operation was run for profit. Nobody had to be shaken awake. The fat man himself in his silver spurs stood peering from the steps flanked by two of his hands while another, rifle leveled, squatted back of a window.

"Must've come after a chunk of fire," the breeder said, "to use them horses—" "I've come from a talk with Hollis Cotten," Ives said. It brought French off the steps white checked.

"You what?" he cried, reaching deep for breath. "Did you say Hollis Cotten?" "He's in bad shape," Ives told them where to look for the man. "You'll need a wagon—both his legs been smashed. Left hand's a sight, every finger broke an' put back crooked, but tat ain't why I'm in such a sweat. Jupe's drivin' them stolen cows back to Turtle. I need somebody there whose word'll stand up. Responsible citizens—" "I'll fetch 'em," French growled.

The rancher's cheeks blanched. He stood uncertainly as though half minded to back off. Perhaps he thought of his men, taking fresh courage from that rifle he had back of him. A darker color flushed into his cheeks. With the fat hanging down from his jaws like walties he cried on an outburst of bristling spleen: "Jump in the lake, mister! For all I know you come straight from Sam Renwick! You ain't suckin' me in with no crazy yarn. Hollis Cotten's dead! As for Jupe—" "You going to stand here and argue till Sam takes your place over? Like he did Roman 4 and those Cotten properties?" (To Be Continued)

"DEAR ABBY"

What Big White Teeth He Had

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I pulled out of the parking lot behind a supermarket too quickly, and I almost ran over a man who was walking toward his car with a large sack of groceries. He dropped the sack and a carton of eggs went ker-plunk! I said, "Oh, I'm so sorry—I hope your wife doesn't break your neck." He smiled and said, "No harm done, Madame, and besides, I have no wife."

I don't know why, but I quickly I replied, "That's a coincidence, I have no husband." (I am a widow.) Then he grinned broadly, revealing the most beautiful even-white teeth I've ever seen, and he tipped his hat. Abby, please don't think I'm crazy, but I haven't been able to get that man's face and voice out of my mind. I would like to see him again. But how?

LADY IN THE BLUE SEDAN

Dear Lady: Go back to that supermarket at approximately the same time you met him there. If he has any interest in seeing you again, I'll bet you see him.

Dear Abby: It is appalling how few people know the art of getting along with one's neighbor. Years ago I found a method that could be used in a variety of situations.

A dentist lived next door to us. We each had large, well-carved-for yards. On week-ends he would rake all his trash in a pile and push it alongside our bordering shrubs. I retaliated by adding to the pile as much as I could scrape from under my own shrubs, and pushing it directly onto his lawn. It took only two offenses on my part to cure him.

People who have nifty neighbors could use this method. It could be applied to borrowers who never pay back. And wives who get a little too cozy with other women's husbands could be taught a lesson by this retaliation trick. I have used this principle with great success for years, and have suffered no loss of friends.

ELIZABETH

Dear Elizabeth: Your "eye-for-an-eye and tooth-for-a-tooth" system would work very well—until you ran out of eyes and teeth. I prefer the "cheek-turning" technique, only after the forthright "come-right-out-and-tell-them" method has failed.

Dear Abby: About a year ago I noticed a wall between me and my husband that I could not penetrate. I don't know when it started, or why, but I could not reach him, so I turned to a single man to talk my problems over with. It ended up with this man begging me to divorce my husband and marry him. I didn't intend for it to happen this way, Abby, because I think I still love my husband. The single man is very persistent. I made my mistake when I told him I loved him, but I only did it because I was emotionally upset about my husband. How do I get out of this mess?

IN A MESS
Dear In: Tell the single man that you still love your husband and you regret ever becoming involved with another man. And if the "wall" between you and your husband is still there, read the handwriting on it, and consult your clergyman or a marriage counselor for some objective and professional help.

Adequate Low-Fat, Low-Cholesterol Breakfast for Father

A basic cereal and milk breakfast pattern—low in fat and low in cholesterol—is a good September Better Breakfast Month special. Although much of the discussion in nutrition circles these days concerns teen-age breakfast habits, father is not being neglected. His breakfast habits are under inspection too—in many cases they are being modified.

Medical authorities now recommend a moderate reduction of fat when a prudent diet is essential for the protection of health. At the same time, these authorities advise a well-balanced breakfast which provides quick and lasting energy to meet the fast tempo and strenuous demands of modern living.

What is such a breakfast? The Iowa Breakfast Studies conducted in the College of Medicine, State University of Iowa, proved that a basic cereal and milk breakfast providing about 20 grams of protein gives quick and lasting energy throughout the early and late morning hours. It is also moderately low in fat and low in cholesterol. Here is a sample low-fat menu:

Low-Fat Energy Breakfast
Grapefruit, ½ medium
Corn Flakes, dry weight 1 ounce
Whole Milk, ½ cup
Sugar, 1 teaspoon
Toasted English Muffins, 2
Butter, 1 teaspoon; Marmalade, 1 teaspoon; Nonfat Milk, 1 cup
Black Coffee, if desired

Special Group to Report on Assassination

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says it is "a matter of days" before his investigating commission completes and submits to President Johnson its 700-page report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Other sources estimated the White House may issue the findings over the weekend of Sept. 27. Other estimates were that final editing, printing and binding could take a little longer.

Warren told newsmen Saturday that the seven-member commission has been working night and day to finish the report.

"I hope it will be very soon," Warren said. "We're just driving to get it all done. Our job is completed when we report to the president."

The chief justice emphasized that public distribution of the report is up to the White House.

Much of the delay in completing the report — the original target date was June 30 — stems from painstaking efforts by commission members to make sure each report on Kennedy's death last Nov. 22 in Dallas is fully documented.

Commission sources said that although the report will contain "some surprises," in main it will say:

—Lee Harvey Oswald, an unstable Marxist acting without helpers or co-conspirators, shot Kennedy to death.

—Jack Ruby, convicted murderer of Oswald, acted in outraged grief as what he conceived to be an agent of retribution when he killed Oswald in the Dallas police station two days after Kennedy's death.

Warren said the commission's primary task now is editing proofs from the Government Printing Office, including the checking of "thousands of footnotes, references to the appendices."

But another commission member reported: "We're still writing."

The report will include, early in the text, a summary of the commission's findings, perhaps 20 to 25 pages long; then hundreds of pages of narrative and analytical text, with some illustrations; and, finally, some condensed appendices.

In addition, there will be 20 or more volumes containing the transcripts of testimony of hundreds of witnesses questioned in closed hearings, as well as depositions, investigations reports and exhibits.

Besides Warren, the commission consists of Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich.; Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; John J. McCloy and Allen W. Dulles.

Tech Schools Enroll Over 200

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state's two vocational technical schools at Pine Bluff and Morrilton each have an enrollment of more than 200, the state Education Department said Monday.

The Pine Bluff school has 207 students and the Petit Jean Vocational Technical School at Morrilton has 204 students.

J. Marion Adams, assistant commissioner for Vocational Education, said that neither school has started night extension courses, which would sharply increase the enrollment.

a symptom of the ailment. The South Vietnamese are split by Catholic-Buddhist factions and the disputes and ambitions of generals. They lack the unity and general will necessary to solve their marmour problem: victory over the Reds.

The history of the past 10 months has been one of steady deterioration. Last Nov. 1 President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Catholic, was killed when a military junta took over after his bitter quarrels with the Buddhists. This lasted until Jan. 30.

Then Maj. Gen. Khanh, in another coup, threw out the junta He survived until Aug. 7 when, like Diem, he tried to establish a dictatorship. Buddhists protested, even though Khanh was a Buddhist, and fought Catholics in the streets.

In the midst of this uproar Khanh skipped out, but only temporarily, and returned Sept. 5. He bowed to Buddhist demands, bounced some of his top officers, including Catholics like Gen. Phai.

Each time this country quickly recognized the new masters or master, until Sunday when it stuck by Khanh. As of now he's boss again.

If there's no civil war until after the American elections, Johnson may then feel he can move more freely in handling Viet Nam than he does now.

Here's A Tempting Sandwich Idea

Sandwiches have gained momentum in menu planning. Whether the next sandwich you serve is for lunch, supper, or a late evening snack, make it a "souper" one. One that pleases all around the table.

A terrific idea for this popular food favorite is spread-a-burgers. They're tempting open-face quickies. Easy-do's, spread-a-burgers combine ground beef, chicken, eggs, or tuna, with a canned condensed soup, and seasonings. This tasty mixture is spread on toasted frankfurter or hamburger buns and broiled. As a lunch or supper menu pass crisp carrot and celery sticks or canned hot cherry peppers. Follow with a tray of apples and doughnuts; mugs of milk for the youngsters; coffee for adults. For snack-time eating, spread-a-burgers stand on their own, made like this:

BEEF SPREAD-A-BURGERS

- 1½ pounds ground beef
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
- ½ cup finely chopped onion
- 1 can (2 ounces) chopped mushrooms, drained
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¾ teaspoon leaf oregano, crushed
- ¾ teaspoon pepper
- Dash garlic powder
- 6 frankfurter buns, split and toasted

Thoroughly mix beef, soup, onion, mushrooms, and seasonings. Spread mixture evenly over bun halves; cover edges completely. Broil about 4 inches from heat for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 6 open-face sandwiches.

NOTE: If desired, sprinkle burgers with ½ cup shredded mild process cheese during the last 5 minutes of broiling.

Faubus Hit for Backing Johnson

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Capital Citizens Council took Gov. Orval E. Faubus to task today for endorsing the Democratic presidential vice presidential ticket.

"How could Gov. Faubus turn on Goldwater?" the council asked in a newspaper advertisement over the signature of council President Amis Guthridge. "Barry Goldwater is the man for whom the southern people have prayed."

Faubus publicly endorsed the Lyndon Johnson - Hubert Humphrey Democratic ticket Saturday. He explained later that his prime motivation was party loyalty.

The council's advertisement did not take a position on Faubus' sixth term race against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller but it did say that if the Johnson-Humphrey ticket is elected that it will make small difference who becomes governor.

"The state will be quickly reduced to weak puppets of the all-powerful federal 'experts' in Washington," it said.

The council demanded to know if Faubus made any agreements or got any promises as a result of the endorsement. "What promises of juicy patronage could entice the governor to join up with the same crowd he has been fighting all these years?" the ad asked.

The ad discussed Goldwater's opposition to the civil rights bill and said, "Barry Goldwater has shown himself to be a man upon whom Arkansas and the South can count. Lyndon Johnson has shown himself to be the man on whom x x x the liberal left-

Future Road Needs to Be Studied

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce announced today it would undertake a comprehensive economic study of Arkansas' highway transportation facilities and intrastate road system to determine future needs.

The study will be "completely objective and without any special regional or personal aspects," said Wayne A. Stone of Pine Bluff, chamber president.

The state Highway Commission, Arkansas Planning Commission, the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and the University of Arkansas were invited to participate.

Stone appointed a five man committee to conduct the long-range study. Members are C. H. Murphy Jr. of El Dorado, Reeves Ritchie of Little Rock, R. A. Young Jr. of Fort Smith, F. R. McKnight of West Helena and William H. Roberts of Pine Bluff.

The committee will meet Sept. 25 in Little Rock.

"Continued industrialization alone is sufficient to justify a serious examination of future highway needs," Stone said. "Just as important is the need to evaluate tomorrow's highway system in the light of natural growth, population shifts and desires of a changing society."

Faubus had the backing of the council in his 1958 and 1960 races, but most council members supported Rep. Dale Alford in the 1962 campaign.

Auto Pacts Revive Talk of Inflation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The auto labor pacts being hammered out in Detroit have revived talk of possibly increased inflation but without conviction that anything like a boom and bust is in the making.

This could be overconfidence in the general stability of business. More likely, it's respect for both the strength and moderation of the present business trend.

The entire record of the American economy since the end of World War II has been remarkable for its general vigor. In the 19 years there has been nothing like a full-scale depression such as followed the first World War. There have been recessions, but mild by comparison.

And the present upswing has a statistical record that lulls the fears of all but the most cautious, for at least, the time being.

Inflation has been a black mark against several of the periods of advance since World War II. But the present one has got along with what's called creeping inflation — about 1.5 per cent rise annually in the cost of living.

Here is the score card — mostly good, but some bad — in the upswing since the last mid-recession hit its low point in February 1961.

As drawn up by John W. Harriman, economist for the Tri-Continental Corp., a Wall Street investment firm, it shows:

The consumer price index has risen 4 per cent since February 1961. Wholesale prices — the average of all commodities —

Rockefeller to Meet Goldwater

MEMPHIS (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller, Republican candidate for governor of Arkansas, was due for his second meeting with GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater today since Goldwater received the party nomination for president.

Rockefeller attended a party unity meeting in Hershey, Pa., the week after the Republican National Convention.

He was to be in a motorcade and receiving line with Goldwater today and on the platform when Goldwater speaks on Front Street here.

Travis Beeson, GOP candidate for lieutenant governor of Arkansas, also was to be in the are practically unchanged. Hourly earnings have gone up 9 per cent, and weekly earnings, counting in overtime, 15 per cent. Unemployment is down 26 per cent since the 1961 February count.

Businessmen have chalked up a rise of 19 per cent on retail sales of nondurable goods, and of 34 per cent on durables.

The ratio of inventories to sales has dropped since February 1961. For manufacturers it's off 10 per cent, for wholesalers 5 per cent, and for retailers 7.5 per cent.

All of this was going on while the economy was expanding, with few hitches, at a steady if modest pace. Industrial production is up 29 per cent. And the Gross National Product — total of all goods and services — is up 18 per cent in constant dollars, or up 23 per cent without adjusting to the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar from creeping inflation.

It is this record of vigor, and considerable stability, that the economy has shown that leads many observers to believe that the latest flurries in wage scales and in prices of some goods can be contained.

Khanh's Foes in Viet Nam Are Jailed

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two of three top leaders of Sunday's attempt to overthrow Premier Nguyen Khanh were in government custody in Saigon today, but the situation in the populous Mekong River delta remained explosive.

Maj. Gen. Duong Van Duc was reliably reported under house arrest in Saigon and facing a probable trial. Duc commands the 4th Army Corps charged with defending the whole delta and about half the population of South Viet Nam.

A second leader of the coup, the 7th Division commander, Col. Juynh Van Ton, finally was persuaded to leave his stronghold at My Tho, 40 miles south of Saigon, to return to Saigon.

Ton, a Dai Viet, withdrew his division and armor from Saigon Monday morning after his commander, Duc, capitulated to loyalist forces. Ton returned to Saigon by helicopter and presumably also will face some kind of charges. Trouble still was brewing in his command area. Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, the initial commander of the rebels, was reported still in My Tho.

Phat denounced Khanh as a traitor to the nation in a broadcast Sunday after his forces seized Saigon. Presumably he faces more severe punishment than the others.

Loyalist generals in Saigon appeared to be exerting more control over government developments than Khanh himself. Air force Commander Nguyen Cao Ky appeared to be the key man.

Council Asked to Create More Saints

By BENNETT M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council heard an appeal today to create more Roman Catholic saints from all walks and races of life. There also were warnings against exaggerated devotion to the Virgin Mary.

Leo Jozef Cardinal Suenens of Brussels told the 2,500 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica that national bishop groups should have power to beatify in their own regions, instead of leaving this to the Vatican. Beatification is a step toward canonization as a saint.

The Belgian cardinal complained that too few laymen and too few non-Europeans have been declared saints by the Roman Catholic Church.

Augustin Cardinal Bea, the top Vatican Christian unity expert, told the council that excessive devotion was a barrier to Christian unity efforts.

A press spokesman of the council, who briefed newsmen on the closed proceedings in the basilica, quoted Cardinal Bea as saying such excesses "cause serious difficulties, yes, very serious difficulties or our separation."

Calls Newspaper Criticism Hogwash

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Morgan Beatty, the National Broadcasting Co. news commentator, said here Tuesday that criticism of the press is "hogwash and plain foolishness."

A politician will consider a newspaper as unfair until the newspaper's views are "entirely favorable" to the politician, he said.

Beatty, who was born at Little Rock, said criticism of the press began when Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson attacked each other in newspapers that were truly managed.

rate brethren."

By the narrow margin of 1-114,074, the council voted last year to include Mary's role in the redemption of mankind within the schema De Ecclesia, on the nature of the Church rather than making it the subject of a separate schema.

The minority contended that to include the Marian topic in the more general schema would lessen Mary's position of veneration.

Opponents argued that a separate schema would put undue emphasis on Mary's position. Several bishops said Catholics in some parts of Latin America already tend to place Mary on a plane with Christ.

The subject is of particular importance to leaders in the Christian unity movement, since many Protestants think Catholic veneration of Mary sometimes approaches worship.

To Represent All, Negroes Promise

By REX THOMAS

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — The first two Negroes elected to public office against white opponents in Alabama in almost a century say they will represent all of the people regardless of race.

A clergyman, the Rev. K. L. Buford, and a college professor, Dr. Stanley Hugh Smith, made that promise after winning seats on the Tuskegee City Council in Tuesday's runoff election.

The heavy Negro vote in this racially conscious city where Negroes outnumber white residents both in population and in registered voters also brought the defeat of Mayor Howard Rutherford, who sought a second four-year term.

Rutherford lost to another white candidate, Charles M. Keever, a used-car dealer who received the backing of most Negro voters. Keever got 943 votes, Rutherford 732.

Buford was a leading figure in the voter registration drive which, with the help of a federal court order, gave Negroes a voting majority both in Tuskegee and throughout Macon County. He won over incumbent Dr. Riley Lumpkin, 918 votes to 732.

Smith unseated Councilman James Brawell, 918 to 704.

Buford, waiting outside the National Guard armory where

The Public Utilities Commission has ordered a month-long shutdown to install new equipment.

the city's six voting machines were set up, promised to "try to do a good job in representing the total community."

Smith, 36-year-old head of the Department of Sociology at Tuskegee Institute, expressed gratitude that "both races thought we would be able to do a competent job in representing the community."

The city governing body will retain a white majority. Three white council members were elected in the first city election Aug. 11. Buford and Smith fell short of a majority and were forced into Tuesday's runoff.

In the mayor's race, Rutherford led a field of four white candidates last month when the Negro vote was divided. Keever overcame the lead in the runoff.

Negroes outnumber white residents in Tuskegee about 4-1, but only in recent months have they gained a voting majority.

There were 1,133 Negroes and 1,029 white persons qualified to vote.

Boycott Fails to Budge N. Y. Board

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP) — The two-day white boycott of New York's public schools will have no effect on the integration program, says school Supt. Calvin E. Gross.

"We are going ahead with our plans without the slightest change," he said Tuesday, second and final day of the demonstration against forced busing of pupils to improve racial balance in the schools.

Gross said the boycott would cost the school system about $1.6 million in future state aid, which is computed on attendance figures.

There were more parents picketing Tuesday than Monday, but absences dropped from 275,638 to 233,306. Normal daily absenteeism in the million-pupil system is 100,000.

Police reported pickets at 194 schools, compared to 150 on Monday, a gray, chilly day.

Leaders of the two virtually all-white parent groups that sponsored the boycott said they were pleased by the outcome. They have said they are not against integration, but only against methods that tend to destroy the neighborhood-school concept.

Rosemary Gunning, chairman of the Parents and Taxpayers Coordinating Council, said the ## council would now seek a state law to define the neighborhood school and assure its existence.

She also said parents of children who have been involuntarily transferred should not send the children to school until they are returned to their neighborhood schools.

There is no legal segregation in New York, but racial patterns in housing have made some schools nearly all-Negro and others nearly all-white. Negro children make up just over a quarter of the school system enrollment.

The most controversial part of the Board of Education's integration plan is the pairing of four largely Negro schools with four nearby schools that are

Voters Approve Plant Expansion

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Jackson County voters gave landslide approval Tuesday to a $6 million Act 9 bond issue to expand the operations of Revere Copper and Brass Co., Inc., here.

With 45 of 52 boxes counted, largely white. Pupils attend some grades in one of the paired schools and the rest in the other school.

This feature affects about 2,300 pupils, with 1,000 of them traveling by bus. The school board says the trips last 10 minutes.

The vote was 2,911-55.

The bonds would finance construction of a new plant to replace the manufacture of wide rolls of aluminum foil for household use, and will be the first of its kind, officials said.

Rental payments by the firm over a 22-year period would retire the bonds. No tax was involved.
